

Chain-Link Fence Will Keep Out North Koreans

ALONG THE WESTERN FRONT, Korea (AP) — U.S. forces guarding an 18½-mile section of Korea's demilitarized zone are building a chain link fence across the front to cut down on North Korean sneak attacks that have killed at least 20 Americans and wounded 60 others in the last 12 months.

South Korean Army authorities said construction of a similar barrier is expected to be completed before next spring in the part of the 151-mile border the Koreans guard.

The barrier going up in the U.S. patrol area is topped with barbed wire and appears similar in some respects to the one Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara ordered built just below the demilitarized zone in South Vietnam to slow North Vietnamese infiltration.

Both fences are basically an early warning system. The Korean fence, although reinforced by watch towers with electronic equipment, does not have the electronic and antipersonnel devices planned for the Vietnamese barrier.

"The fence itself is not the barrier," said Lt. Col. George A. Meighan, a battalion commander of the 2nd "Indian Head" Division at the Korean front. The big factor in determining its success, he said, would be the soldiers watching the fence.

Sections completed since construction began in June stand 10 feet high and are topped with rolls of barbed wire. They run relatively straight through mountainous terrain 50 to 200 yards below the southern edge of the 2½-mile-wide buffer zone. Towers with electronic equipment, searchlights and numerous positions for sentinels are dotted along it.

About 80 to 150 yards of land have been cleared on either side of the fence. Meighan said this would help his men observe movement of any infiltrators.

At night searchlights flash on and other electronic detection equipment comes into play.

Debunk Story Of 'CIA Spy'

Claim Defector Never Employed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department acknowledges it once employed a John Smith, but expresses doubt it's the same John Smith who is making Soviet headlines with: "I Was a Spy for the CIA."

That story appeared Tuesday in the Moscow newspaper Literary Gazette and told how author Smith spied on the Defense Ministry of India.

The author described himself as a Quincy, Mass., native who worked for the State Department and CIA before defecting to the Soviet Union.

The State Department said it once employed a John Discoe Smith from Quincy, Mass., but said it knew nothing of any defection involving him and found no evidence he worked for the CIA.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey said John Discoe Smith, 41, worked in the technical job of communications clerk for the State Department from 1950 until Dec. 29, 1959, when he resigned.

McCloskey said the department's last contact with this Smith came when he was issued a passport in 1960.

He said there was no record showing Smith "worked for anyone other than the Department of State as a communications clerk" and "there is no reason to think he was ever employed by the CIA."

Deny Rehearing To Blue Cross

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court today denied a rehearing to Blue Cross of Northeast Ohio in its rate case against six hospitals in Summit County.

In the case, Blue Cross sought to block a plan by the hospitals to withdraw from participation because the plan failed to cover full cost of treating Blue Cross patients.

The hospitals involved are Akron General, Akron City, St. Thomas, Children's Green Cross and Barberton Citizens Hospital.

Unpredicted Severe Storm Lashes Ohio

Wilmington Hit By High Winds; Report Twisters

CINCINNATI (AP)—An unpredicted severe thunderstorm producing 48 mile-per-hour winds swept through the Cincinnati area Tuesday night downing utility poles and tearing off several roofs.

No injuries were reported, police said.

A severe weather alert had been issued for parts of extreme Western Ohio and the region north of Dayton, but it was lifted three hours later.

Tornadoes reportedly were sighted 10 and 15 miles south of Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton, but the Weather Bureau could not confirm them.

Damage occurred in and around Cincinnati and only gusty winds and rain struck other portions of the state.

Winds were clocked at 70 m.p.h. at Wilmington and high winds were reported in Hamilton and Middletown.

In downtown Cincinnati a roof was ripped off an apartment house and roofs were sheared from several homes in suburban Forest Park. A utility pole was blown into a house near suburban Mount Healthy but the amount of damage it did was unknown. Wire and trees were reported down in various areas and winds scattered debris of all sorts around the city.

REMNANTS of the Pumpkin Show remain in some areas of the business district... A decorated baby stroller, an apparent entry of Thursday's Baby Parade, is unclaimed in front of the Humble Oil Co. on E. That's about it though, considering the fine "clean-up" job accomplished by the city's crews as well as local merchants. . . Last night's rainfall finished the job by giving the area a bath.

Strip Mine Group Set

SUGAR CREEK, Ohio (AP)—A group of Holmes Countians who contend the state is not enforcing its strip mines laws organized a Citizens Council of Natural Resources here Tuesday night.

Already incorporated by the secretary of state, the council stated as its purpose to educate "the people of eastern Ohio about the mutilation of land by strip mine operators and their failure to comply with laws on reclamation."

The group said it would appeal to Gov. James A. Rhodes and the Natural Resources Department to see that the laws are enforced.

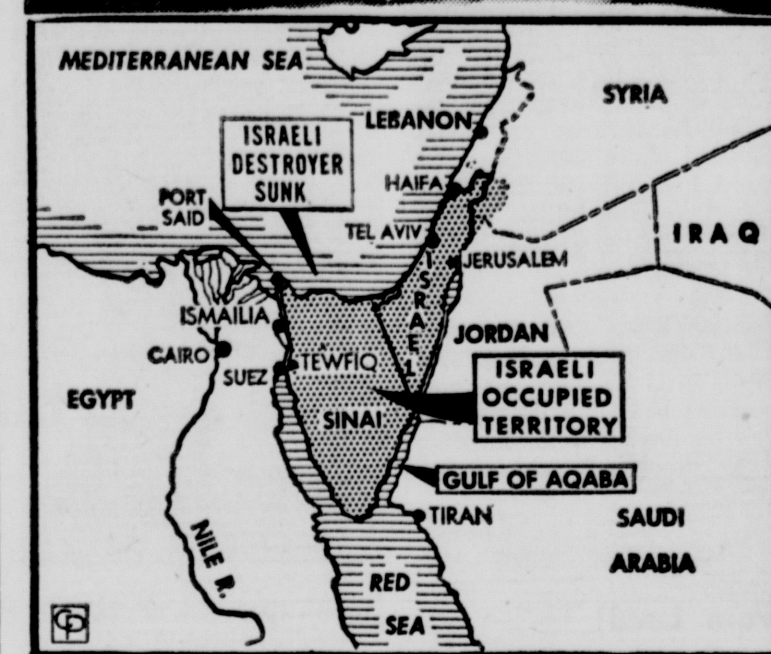

The Rev. William Stauffer of Rt. 1, Stone Creek, was elected president, while Dale Schrock, Millersburg, was named vice president and Andrew Mast, Walnut Creek, secretary.

Brookville Youth Dies of Injuries

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A Montgomery County youth injured Monday night in an explosion at his home in nearby Brookville died Tuesday night in Good Samaritan Hospital.

Authorities said the victim, Robert Wheeler, 18, was experimenting with gunpowder when it exploded. Three other members of his family were injured, his father seriously.

The fighting broke out over the southern reaches of the Suez 3 days after the sinking of an Israeli destroyer (see map). Both sides duelled in the area north of Tewfik and in Suez City.

GOP Continues Attack on Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans have $5 billion and $2 billion moves ready in their effort to win Senate approval of a multibillion dollar cutback in federal spending.

The administration, beaten in a similar fight by the House, is trying to block the attachment of any across-the-board spending curbs to an otherwise routine money resolution.

Senate votes were expected today on the resolution, which extends until Nov. 15 the authority for many federal agencies to continue to spend government money.

Congress has not completed action on these agencies' regular appropriations for the budget year which began July 1. An earlier interim spending authorization expires at midnight Monday.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., wants to add a provision establishing a $131.5 billion federal spending ceiling for this fiscal year. That's estimated to be worth a $5 billion cut and is almost the same as one provision the House tacked onto the resolution last week.

The House also added a broader directive to the President to reduce expenditures by $6 to $8 billion in the present year.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., proposes a 5 per cent cut in all appropriations except those for defense and for items fixed by law such as interest on the national debt.

He estimated this would reduce appropriations by nearly $2 billion.

Williams told the Senate Tuesday the nation is in a "chaotic financial situation" and that President Johnson has contributed heavily by "false economy promises" and by "juggling the budget figures in an effort to mislead the American people as to the true extent of deficit spending."

Deputies Seek Jury Members
MORRISTOWN, N.J. (AP) — Sheriff's deputies framed the street in front of the Morris County Courthouse today and pulled in 20 passersby as prospective jurors in the trial of Negro playwright-poet LeRoi Jones and two other men.

Essex County Judge Leon Kapp, sitting in nearby Morris County because of a change of venue, ordered the deputies into the street. The original panel of prospective jurors was exhausted Monday, the first day of the trial.

Enemy Planes, Heavy Flak Encountered

Bridge at Hanoi Also Attacked; Bombs on Target

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes flew through challenging MIGs and heavy flak today for followup strikes on North Vietnam's biggest air base and a new raid on the mile-long Doumer Bridge in the capital of Hanoi.

It was the second consecutive raid on the vital MIG airfield at Phuc Yen, previously on the Pentagon's restricted target list, and the second strike at the Doumer Bridge which was hit once before on Aug. 11.

The bridge carries most of the city's road and rail traffic across the Red River on the heavily traveled northeast route to Red China.

It was the second consecutive day of maximum effort raids by Air Force fighter-bombers from bases in Thailand.

The heavily laden F105 Thunderchiefs swept over Phuc Yen to again crater the 9,170-foot runway and to blast maintenance and support facilities north of the field which were unscathed in Tuesday's raids.

The initial reports of the raid on Hanoi's Doumer Bridge said the bombs were "on target" but did not have further details. The Aug. 11 raid dropped a span in the dead center of the mile-long, 18-span concrete structure. The bridge is 1.7 miles from the city's center. The Air Force said photos showed the bombed out span had been repaired and the bridge was again carrying road and probably rail traffic.

A U.S. military spokesman said the raiders tangled today with MIG interceptors but reported no kills for either side.

U.S. pilots reported the North Vietnamese had filled in some of the bomb craters from the first assault during the night.

The U.S. Command reported earlier that 10 MIGs were destroyed or damaged and the air base put out of action for at least five or six days in the biggest raid of the war.

U.S. headquarters disclosed that four American planes were lost over North Vietnam Tuesday instead of two as previously announced. But a spokesman said none was shot down in the Phuc Yen area.

White To Run For U.S. Senate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — William L. White, Mount Vernon businessman who has been an unsuccessful candidate for U.S. representative and governor, announced Wednesday he will seek the Republican nomination for U.S. senator.

One other man, a Springfield industrialist, Albert Payne, announced previously he would seek the Senate seat now held by Democrat Frank Lausche.

In a news release, White blasted President Johnson, Lausche and Sen. Stephen M. Young, another Democrat. He termed the Vietnam war "foolhardy" and compared it to a World War I trench stalemate.

MARTINS FERRY, Ohio (AP) — There were no classes in Martins Ferry public schools again Wednesday as teacher members of the Classroom Teachers Association held a "professional study day" and remained away from classes in a pay dispute with the Board of Education.

Rusk, Mac Reject Viet Discussions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration spokesmen continue a drumbeat of counterfire to protests over U.S. policy in Vietnam but two of them have rejected new invitations to discuss the issue publicly in Congress.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara both formally turned down invitations tendered by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Neither turnout was unexpected. Both Rusk and McNamara often have indicated their preference for executive sessions, closed to public and news media—sessions that give administration leaders the right to censor military testimony before it's made public.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Foreign Relations Committee said earlier he doubted the invitations would be accepted because public questioning "would be very embarrassing" to top administration figures.

Rusk said in his reply to the latest committee request that he would be glad to appear in closed session but felt a fruitful discussion couldn't result from public hearings because the questioning would doubtless involve classified information.

Both Rusk and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey had unkind words Tuesday for antiwar protesters.

Humphrey told a luncheon audience of AFL-CIO officials here that antiwar demonstrations encourage the North Vietnamese and said the administration is continuing efforts to get peace talks started.

"We have tried again and again, even this month, to try to find some way to talk," said Humphrey.

Rusk, speaking to civic groups in Los Angeles as pickets chanted outside the hotel meeting, said America's fighting men and not its pickets speak for the majority of the people.

He said the antiwar demonstrations encourage Hanoi to hope America's will to fight is being eroded, and explained why this way:

"If you and I heard that 40 or 50 thousand demonstrators were circling the headquarters in Hanoi calling for peace, we'd think the war is over."

"How do we prevent their misunderstanding the news that 40 or 50 thousand people are demonstrating in front of the Pentagon?"

Auto Contract Approval Seen

DETROIT (AP) — Skilled tradesmen and production workers in four locals of the United Auto Workers union have approved the new contract with Ford Motor Co. by comfortable margins.

Production workers voted heavily for the pact Tuesday while skilled tradesmen approved it by a better than two-to-one margin. Some skilled tradesmen had made a last minute bid for rejection of the contract.

The remainder of the UAW's 160,000 Ford members in 101 bargaining units vote today.

The returns came after back-to-back television appearances Tuesday by UAW President Walter P. Reuther who appealed for approval and unhappy tradesmen calling for rejection of the contract.

If the contract is approved, workers in 25 Ford plants across the country would resume work schedules Thursday and Friday. Striking workers have been living on benefits ranging from $20 to $30 a week and Ford's new car sales have fallen drastically this month.

Seize Safe Of Cohen's Relative

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Federal tax agents say a safe they seized at the home of Philip Silbert, one of four men charged with operating what has been called a $10 million gambling ring, contained $50,000 in cash.

Silbert is the brother-in-law of Sheldon S. Cohen, U.S. commissioner of internal revenue. Federal agents Monday described Silbert in affidavits as "one of the most important numbers bankers in the Baltimore area."

In addition to the $50,000, agents who seized the safe Tuesday, said it contained two $100 Canadian bills, English currency and a gold certificate.

Also charged in the case are Jessie Bondroff, William Schreck and Maurice Silbert, Philip's brother. All are free on $2,500 bond.

In addition to the money seized from Philip Silbert's home, agents said they seized $13,749 from Schreck's house and $8,700 from raids on nine other locations throughout the city.

Middle East Fighting Rages; U.N. Studies Resolution

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — New firing broke out today near Egypt's still blazing Suez oil refineries, as the Soviet Union pushed for support in the U.N. Security Council to condemn Israel as the aggressor in Tuesday's three-hour artillery battle.

Newsman touring the ravaged Egyptian port at the southern end of the Suez Canal reported an Israeli plane penetrated

Egyptian air space and sprayed machine-gun bullets at men struggling to put out fires set off by Israeli shells the day before.

But Israeli military officials across the canal in Port Taufiq said nervous Egyptian flak gunners opened up on one of their own Soviet-made Sukhoi 7 fighters as it swept low over Egypt's west bank of the canal. Flak bracketed the craft, the Israelis said, but it did not appear to be hit.

"He was lucky," an Israeli officer said. "Our gunners might have opened up."

The Israelis charged Egyptian forces raked Israeli positions with machine-gun fire at the southern end of the Great Bitter Lake, about 15 miles north of Port Taufiq. There were no casualties and the fire was not returned, they said.

Thick smoke curled from at least five fires in Suez and cast a huge shadow over the canal's southern entrance. A long black stream of smoke trailed 20 miles into the Sinai Desert.

The Israeli army reported trouble on another frontier. It said two Israeli soldiers were killed, another was seriously wounded and an Arab was killed in a clash between troops and Arab infiltrators seven miles north of the Damya Bridge spanning the Jordan River.

At the United Nations, there seemed little chance the Russians could round up enough votes to secure approval of their resolution condemning Israel.

Chief U.S. delegate Arthur J. Goldberg brushed aside the Soviet resolution, terming it a "midnight rerun of this stale record." He introduced a resolution calling on the council to condemn all violations of the Arab-Israeli cease-fire.

Israel and Egypt blamed each other for triggering the fierce artillery and mortar duel at the southern end of the Suez Canal. Fires still roared today in Egypt's two major oil refineries in the city of Suez which produced 80 per cent of Egypt's petroleum. The pipeline terminal at nearby Port Taufiq also was ablaze.

Gov. Hamid Mahmoud of Suez told visiting newsmen one refinery was almost completely destroyed Tuesday and the other was half flattened. He said three civilians were killed and 60 wounded by the Israeli shelling, while an Egyptian communique said military casualties were three killed and 12 wounded.

Israel made no announcement of its losses but denied an Egyptian claim that an Israeli jet was shot down and four Israeli tanks were destroyed. The Security Council was called into urgent session Tuesday night at the request of Egypt which accused Israel of "new and premeditated, flagrant aggression."

Israel filed a counter complaint accusing the Egyptians of "open aggression and violations of the cease-fire resolution." The Israelis charged the Egyptians fired first from gun emplacements within inhabited areas of Port Taufiq, Port Ibrahim and Suez.

Chain-Link Fence Will Keep Out North Koreans

ALONG THE WESTERN FRONT, Korea (AP) — U.S. forces guarding an 18 1/2-mile section of Korea's demilitarized zone are building a chain link fence across the front to cut down on North Korean sneak attacks that have killed at least 20 Americans and wounded 60 others in the last 12 months.

$700,000 Blaze Hits Wooster

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—Fire destroyed a discount store and supermarket about two miles east of here today.

Damage to the building and contents of the Value Center and the Super Center Food Store was estimated at $700,000 by county officials.

An estimated 15 to 20 pumper and tanker trucks from Wooster and surrounding communities responded to the alarm. Fire officials said the blaze was started by a faulty space heater in the rear of the discount store.

The two stores are part of a one-story building. Employees working in the stores spotted the flames and all got out safely.

Officials said the fire spread quickly because of high winds and the fact that the nearest hydrant was one mile away. Tanker trucks had to make repeated trips for water.

Steel Truck Pact Feared Falling Apart

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The threat of a second steel haulers strike loomed today with drivers accusing some trucking firms of refusing to rehire them.

William Kusley, leader of the bitter strike that tied up highway steel shipments for nine weeks, says he and about 50 other drivers are out of a job.

He said a dozen trucking firms in four states—Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania—have violated the strike-ending agreement promising no reprisals or loss of seniority.

"If we can't get everybody back to work, we'll just have to pull all the trucks off the road. I don't know what else we can do," Kusley said Tuesday.

Most of the 10,000 to 20,000 haulers returned to work Tuesday as steel mills began pushing out orders backed up since the strike began in Gary, Ind., and spread through eight states.

Kusley, who organized the owner-operators into a rebel group called the National Steel Haulers Protest Committee, said he's working with the Teamsters Union in an effort to iron out the problem. About 60 per cent of the independents belong to the union.

The strike-ending settlement granted the independents a five per cent rate hike, and payment of $10 an hour for every hour they have to wait in mills for their trucks to be loaded beyond the first four hours.

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Federal tax agents say a safe they seized at the home of Philip Silbert, one of four men charged with operating what has been called a $10 million gambling ring, contained $50,000 in cash.

Silbert is the brother-in-law of Sheldon S. Cohen, U.S. commissioner of internal revenue. Federal agents Monday described Silbert in affidavits as "one of the most important numbers bankers in the Baltimore area."

In addition to the $50,000, agents who seized the safe Tuesday, said it contained two $100 Canadian bills, English currency and a gold certificate.

Also charged in the case are Jessie Bondroff, William Schreck and Maurice Silbert, Philip's brother. All are free on $25,000 bond.

In addition to the money seized from Philip Silbert's home, agents said they seized $13,749 from Schreck's house and $8,700 from raids on nine other locations throughout the city.

Middle East Fighting Rages; U.N. Studies Resolution

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — New firing broke out today near Egypt's still blazing Suez oil refineries, as the Soviet Union pushed for support in the U.N. Security Council to condemn Israel as the aggressor in Tuesday's three-hour artillery battle.

Newsmen touring the ravaged Egyptian port at the southern end of the Suez Canal reported an Israeli plane penetrated

Egyptian air space and sprayed machine-gun bullets at men struggling to put out fires set off by Israeli shells the day before.

But Israeli military officials across the canal in Port Taufiq said nervous Egyptian flak gunners opened up on one of their own Soviet-made Sukhoi 7 fighters as it swept low over Egypt's west bank of the canal. Flak-bracketed the craft, the Israelis said, but it did not appear to be hit.

"He was lucky," an Israeli officer said. "Our gunners might have opened up."

The Israelis charged Egyptian forces raked Israeli positions with machine-gun fire at the southern end of the Great Bitter Lake, about 15 miles north of Port Taufiq. There were no casualties and the fire was not returned, they said.

Thick smoke curled from at least five fires in Suez and east

a huge shadow over the canal's southern entrance. A long black stream of smoke trailed 20 miles into the Sinai Desert.

The Israeli army reported trouble on another frontier. It said two Israeli soldiers were killed, another was seriously wounded and an Arab was killed in a clash between troops and Arab infiltrators seven miles north of the Damiya Bridge spanning the Jordan River.

At the United Nations, there seemed little chance the Russians could round up enough votes to secure approval of their resolution condemning Israel.

Chief U.S. delegate Arthur J. Goldberg brushed aside the Soviet resolution, terming it a "midnight rerun of this stale record." He introduced a resolution calling on the council to condemn all violations of the Arab-Israeli cease-fire.

Israel and Egypt blamed each other for triggering the fierce artillery and mortar duel at the southern end of the Suez Canal. Fires still roared today in Egypt's two major oil refineries in the city of Suez which produced 80 per cent of Egypt's petroleum. The pipeline terminal at nearby Port Taufiq also was ablaze.

Gov. Hamid Mahmoud of Suez told visiting newsmen one refinery was almost completely destroyed Tuesday and the other was half flattened. He said three civilians were killed and 60 wounded by the Israeli shelling, while an Egyptian communiqué said military casualties were three killed and 12 wounded.

Israel made no announcement of its losses but denied an Egyptian claim that an Israeli jet was shot down and four Israeli tanks were destroyed. The Security Council was called into urgent session Tuesday night at the request of Egypt which accused Israel of "new and premeditated, flagrant aggression."

Israel filed a counter complaint accusing the Egyptians of "open aggression and violations of the cease-fire resolution." The Israelis charged the Egyptians fired first from gun emplacements within inhabited areas of Port Taufiq, Port Ibrahim and Suez.

WORST U.S. KILLINGS—These men perpetrated the worst mass killings in U.S. history. Ex-Marine Charles Whitman, 25, slaughtered 14 persons and wounded 33 others as he fired from a University of Texas tower Aug. 1, 1966. In 1949, Howard Unruh, a war veteran, killed 13 persons in Camden, N.J. Charles Starkweather and his 14-year-old girlfriend, Carol Ann Fugate, left 11 dead, including three members of one family, in two states in 1958. A drifter, Richard Speck, 25, killed eight student nurses in a Chicago dorm in 1966.

Ohio Supreme Court Rules On Cases, Receives Appeal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court today agreed to hear the City of Painesville's appeal from a decision permitting the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. to install certain lines in Painesville without the city's consent.

The company proposes to install three high-voltage lines extending over 13 Painesville streets and a city park to serve customers living outside the city itself. Painesville has its own electricity.

In another case, the Supreme Court refused to consider the appeal by the community of Oregon, Ohio, from a $4,215 award to John W. Klagg for alleged city-caused delays in construction of three eight-inch water mains.

Klagg contended failure of the city to obtain right-of-way and other acts delayed construction and prevented Klagg from meeting a 90-day contractual agreement.

In other cases, the court: Agreed to review the appellate court reversal of the conviction of Frank Dombroski and James Richard Laycock in an attempted breaking and entering at the Plaza Motel in Hamilton in March 1966. The appeals court said use in lower courts concerning criminal records of the defendants was immaterial and prejudicial.

7-Mill Levy On Ballot For LE Voters

Logan Elm School District voters will be asked to approve an operating levy of seven mills when they go to the polls Nov. 7.

The operating levy is a renewal of an existing levy. It will not mean an increase in taxes as it is already on the tax duplicate. The seven mills renewal represents over 38 per cent of taxation needed to continue to operate the schools. The proceeds of this levy will be used to continue to help pay for teaching and non-teaching employees salaries, instructional materials, equipment, fuel, light.

At present time it is mandatory that all school districts levy a minimum of 12½ mill. By Nov. 30, 1968 a minimum of 17½ mills will be required for operation or loss of all State Foundation money will follow. Without the seven mills renewal the Logan Elm tax rate would drop below the mandatory limit set by the State Legislature and a loss of approximately $136,000 state money would result. It will not be financially possible to operate the schools without successful passage of this levy, school officials have said.

A significant tax reduction on bond retirement has been approved by the Board of Education. The total school tax will be reduced from 21.50 mills to 20.40 mills, giving Logan Elm School District one of the lowest total school tax rates in the area.

Refused to disturb the first-degree manslaughter conviction of James Hymore, an off-duty policeman who wielded the gun in a fatal tavern shooting in Lake Township, Wood County, in June 1965. Hymore's lawyers claimed the state failed to prove intent to kill or wound but the trial court held that pointing of the gun under the law is evidence of intent.

Affirmed the freedom of a Lucas County man sentenced in his home county six years ago after pleading guilty to a grand larceny charge without benefit of counsel.

The decision on behalf of Cornelius McNary upheld the appeals court which in April of this year vacated the conviction. The appeals court said, and the high court agreed, that McNary not only lacked counsel but was not advised of his right to it. McNary had been serving his sentence at the Marion Correctional Institution.

No Injuries In Bus-Car Accident

A Logan Elm school bus, carrying four children, and two cars were involved in an accident approximately two miles east of Circleville on Route 56 at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday. There were no injuries.

The school bus was driven by Raymond Williams, 50, of Route 4. Drivers of the cars were Charles T. Julian, 19, Route 1, Stoutsville, and Lewis Haynes, 55, of Port William.

The bus had stopped in the east-bound lane to discharge passengers. The Haynes car in the west bound lane, stopped for the bus. Seeing through his rearview mirror that the Julian car was not going to be able to stop, Haynes pulled his car onto the berm.

The Julian car struck the left rear of the Haynes car, and then glanced off striking the left front of the bus. The Julian car then ran off the side of the road and came to rest against the side of a fence.

Julian was cited for speeding and failure to maintain assured clear distance ahead.

Engine Taken From Garage

Ray Christian, Harrisburg, a mechanic who operates a garage in Pickaway County, reported the theft of an engine, transmission and other auto parts from his garage.

The theft occurred since Friday evening. Gone for the weekend, Christian discovered the missing parts at 11 a.m. Tuesday.

Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Richard Clark said entry into the building was gained by breaking a window. The garage door was then raised and a truck apparently driven into the building.

Clark's investigation indicated that a chain hoist owned by Christian was used to load the equipment on the truck.

Charge 2 Men With Kidnaping

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Two men charged with kidnaping and armed robbery are being held in jail Tuesday after police said they forced a 25-year-old woman into their auto, took $12 from her purse and let her go about one-half hour later.

Orville F. Shue and Joseph E. Davis, both 28, had their cases continued in Municipal Court and were being held in lieu of $25,000 bond each.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A State Department official says 14 white children from three Communist embassies have been beaten and intimidated by other students at the predominantly Negro public school they attend.

Harold A. Pace of the department's protocol division said Tuesday the children of Polish, Czechoslovakian and Bulgarian embassy officials have been subjected to brutal treatment at Lincoln Junior High School. One boy was hospitalized as a result he said.

"This is very bad for our image overseas," said Pace, adding the State Department would like to see the embassy children transferred to another school. But a recent court ruling may make this impossible, officials said.

"By international agreements we must protect the diplomats and their families," said Pace. "I don't see how we can justify subjecting them to continuous harassment."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tax collections indicate Americans are accelerating their intake of alcoholic beverages.

The Internal Revenue Service reported that alcohol tax collections for the year which ended June 30 reached a record $4.63 billion, up 6.8 per cent from the previous fiscal year.

Tobacco tax collections increased just three-tenths of one per cent to $2.08 billion, shy of the 1965 record of $2.15 billion in fiscal 1964-65.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government officials say 37 school districts in 17 Southern and border states have voluntarily set their own deadlines for meeting federal desegregation requirements.

All have agreed to eliminate dual Negro-white school systems within the next three years, federal officials said Tuesday.

They said another 44 of the total 4,600 Southern school districts have submitted plans aimed at meeting federal standards over a slightly longer period.

The AFL-CIO United Steelworkers Union has set a guaranteed annual wage as a primary goal in negotiating new contracts for 30,000 can industry workers, it was learned Tuesday.

Enemy Planes, 4 Ohioans Road Victims

Four flier were missing. The day's losses raised to 711 the announced total of American combat planes downed over the north.

While the tempo of the air war increased, the Viet Cong unleashed light mortar attacks on six closely bunched towns and one airfield in Kien Hoa Province, 30 to 45 miles south-southwest of Saigon in the Mekong Delta.

A U.S. spokesman said a two-hour barrage before dawn killed 11 persons and wounded 48, most of them Vietnamese civilians, although one U.S. government civilian employee was among the wounded.

U.S. headquarters announced a new search-and-destroy sweep in the central highlands—Operation MacArthur—by perhaps 8,000 men of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division but said after 13 days of the hunt for elements of three North Vietnamese divisions, no significant contact had been made.

Quick Flight by Scott Brings Administration Rights Win

WASHINGTON (AP)—An administration-backed civil rights bill squeaked through its first test in the Senate Judiciary Committee today by an 8-7 vote after a dramatic transatlantic flight by Sen. Hugh Scott.

Scott, a Pennsylvania Republican, flew from England Tuesday night in a military transport at the request of the White House for the showdown on the legislation.

Scott told newsmen the committee voted 8 to 7 to adopt the administration's measure in place of a substitute sponsored by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C.

Nose-counting by administration strategists indicated they would fall one vote short of defeating Ervin's substitute because of the expected absence of Sens. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., and Hugh Scott, R-Pa., civil rights measures.

Dodd is in a Rhode Island hospital reportedly suffering from nervous exhaustion.

Scott has been in England lecturing at Oxford University. Early Tuesday he received a call from the White House and was advised a military plane would fly him here in time to vote at the Judiciary Committee meeting.

A spokesman for Ervin, after learning that Scott was being rushed back to Washington, said only that the vote will be "awfully close."

Ohio Supreme Court Rules On Cases, Receives Appeal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court today agreed to hear the City of Painesville's appeal from a decision permitting the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. to install certain lines in Painesville without the city's consent.

The company proposes to install three high-voltage lines extending over 13 Painesville streets and a city park to serve customers living outside the city itself. Painesville has its own electricity.

In another case, the Supreme Court refused to consider the appeal by the community of Oregon, Ohio, from a $4,215 award to John W. Klagg for alleged city-caused delays in construction of three eight-inch water mains.

Klagg contended failure of the city to obtain right-of-way and other acts delayed construction and prevented Klagg from meeting a 90-day contractual agreement.

In other cases, the court: Agreed to review the appellate court reversal of the conviction of Frank Dombroski and James Richard Laycock in an

FBI Arrests Tiffin Youth

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Larry Reed Parks, 20, of Tiffin was arrested by FBI agents Tuesday for refusing to be inducted into the armed forces at Ft. Hayes, Columbus.

Parks was charged with refusing induction, a charge punishable by a jail sentence of up to five years and a fine of up to $10,000.

Norstad Named To OC Position

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Retired Gen. Lauris Norstad has been promoted to board chairman of Owens Corning Fiberglass, the firm announced Tuesday.

Former supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe, Norstad had been president of Owens Corning since 1963. He replaces Harold Boeschstein, who becomes chairman of the board's Executive Committee.

7-Mill Levy On Ballot For LE Voters

Logan Elm School District voters will be asked to approve an operating levy of seven mills when they go to the polls Nov. 7.

The operating levy is a renewal of an existing levy. It will not mean an increase in taxes as it is already on the tax duplicate. The seven mills renewal represents over 38 per cent of taxation needed to continue to operate the schools. The proceeds of this levy will be used to continue to help pay for teaching and non-teaching employees salaries, instructional materials, equipment, fuel, light.

At present time it is mandatory that all school districts levy a minimum of 12½ mills. By Nov. 30, 1968 a minimum of 17½ mills will be required for operation or loss of all State Foundation money will follow. Without the seven mills renewal the Logan Elm tax rate would drop below the mandatory limit set by the State Legislature and a loss of approximately $136,000 state money would result. It will not be financially possible to operate the schools without successful passage of this levy, school officials have said.

A significant tax reduction on bond retirement has been approved by the Board of Education. The total school tax will be reduced from 21.50 mills to 20.40 mills, giving Logan Elm School District one of the lowest total school tax rates in the area.

Harper in the beating death of a woman companion in his Erie County home in 1966, Counsel for Harper contended a three-judge court which convicted him never established guilt beyond a reasonable doubt.

Refused to disturb the first-degree manslaughter conviction of James Hymore, an off-duty policeman who wielded the gun in a fatal tavern shooting in Lake Township, Wood County, in June 1965. Hymore's lawyers claimed the state failed to prove intent to kill or wound but the trial court held that pointing of the gun under the law is evidence of intent.

Affirmed the freedom of a Lucas County man sentenced in his home county six years ago after pleading guilty to a grand larceny charge without benefit of counsel.

The decision on behalf of Cornelius McNary upheld the appeals court which in April of this year vacated the conviction. The appeals court said, and the high court agreed, that McNary not only lacked counsel but was not advised of his right to it. McNary had been serving his sentence at the Marion Correctional Institution.

No Injuries In Bus-Car Accident

A Logan Elm school bus, carrying four children, and two cars were involved in an accident approximately two miles east of Circleville on Route 56 at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday. There were no injuries.

The school bus was driven by Raymond Williams, 50, of Route 4. Drivers of the cars were Charles T. Julian, 19, Route 1, Stoutsville, and Lewis Haynes, 55, of Port William.

The bus had stopped in the east-bound lane to discharge passengers. The Haynes car in the west-bound lane, stopped for the bus. Seeing through his rearview mirror that the Julian car was not going to be able to stop, Haynes pulled his car onto the berm.

The Julian car struck the left rear of the Haynes car, and then glanced off striking the left front of the bus. The Julian car then ran off the side of the road and came to rest against the side of a fence.

Julian was cited for speeding and failure to maintain assured clear distance ahead.

Engine Taken From Garage

Ray Christian, Harrisburg, a mechanic who operates a garage in Pickaway County, reported the theft of an engine, transmission and other auto parts from his garage.

The theft occurred since Friday evening. Gone for the weekend, Christian discovered the missing parts at 11 a.m. Tuesday.

Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Richard Clark said entry into the building was gained by breaking a window. The garage door was then raised and a truck apparently driven into the building.

Clark's investigation indicated that a chain hoist owned by Christian was used to load the equipment on the truck.

Charge 2 Men With Kidnaping

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Two men charged with kidnaping and armed robbery are being held in jail Tuesday after police said they forced a 25-year-old woman into their auto, took $12 from her purse and let her go about one-half hour later.

Orville F. Shue and Joseph E. Davis, both 28, had their cases continued in Municipal Court and were being held in lieu of $25,000 bond each.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A State Department official says 14 white children from three Communist embassies have been beaten and intimidated by other students at the predominantly Negro public school they attend.

Harold A. Pace of the department's protocol division said Tuesday the children of Polish, Czechoslovakian and Bulgarian embassy officials have been subjected to brutal treatment at Lincoln Junior High School. One boy was hospitalized as a result, he said.

"This is very bad for our image overseas," said Pace, adding the State Department would like to see the embassy children transferred to another school. But a recent court ruling may make this impossible, officials said.

"By international agreements we must protect the diplomats and their families," said Pace. "I don't see how we can justify subjecting them to continuous harassment."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tax collections indicate Americans are accelerating their intake of alcoholic beverages.

The Internal Revenue Service reported that alcohol tax collections for the year which ended June 30 reached a record $4.03 billion, up 6.8 per cent from the previous fiscal year.

Tobacco tax collections increased just three-tenths of one per cent to $2.08 billion, shy of the 1965 record of $2.15 billion in fiscal 1964-65.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government officials say 37 school districts in 17 Southern and border states have voluntarily set their own deadlines for meeting federal desegregation requirements.

All have agreed to eliminate dual Negro-white school systems within the next three years, federal officials said Tuesday.

They said another 44 of the total 4,600 Southern school districts have submitted plans aimed at meeting federal standards over a slightly longer period.

Lorain Local Sets Contract Vote

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Members of Local 425, United Auto Workers vote today on ratification of the national contract with the Ford Motor Co. The local represents 4,418 workers idled at Ford's Lorain assembly plant since Sept. 5.

Samuel D. Carr, president of Local 425, said a favorable vote on the contract would not bring an end to the strike here. He said numerous local issues, including an agreement on overtime pay, are still to be settled.

UAW Locals 1250 and 429 which represent workers at Brook Park and Walon Hills Ford plants in Greater Cleveland, also scheduled votes on the contract today.

Autos Sprayed

Four automobile owners told Circleville Police their cars were sprayed with gray paint while parked on Nicholas Drive Tuesday evening.

The owners were Harold B. Farmer, Chuck Hill and Tom Tatman, all residents of the street, and Maxine Steorts, 106 S. Washington St. Her car was parked along the street.

Battery Switched

Bud Allison, an employee of Holt Music Co., reported a battery was taken from a car owned by the firm.

Allison said an old battery was placed in the car. He discovered the theft when he attempted to start the vehicle Tuesday morning.

Quick Flight by Scott Brings Administration Rights Win

WASHINGTON (AP)—An administration-backed civil rights bill squeaked through its first test in the Senate Judiciary Committee today by an 8-7 vote after a dramatic transatlantic flight by Sen. Hugh Scott.

Scott, a Pennsylvania Republican, flew from England Tuesday night in a military transport at the request of the White House for the showdown on the legislation.

Scott told newsmen the committee voted 8 to 7 to adopt the administration's measure in place of a substitute sponsored by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C.

Nose-counting by administration strategists indicated they would fall one vote short of defeating Ervin's substitute because of the expected absence of Sens. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., and Hugh Scott, R-Pa., civil rights measures.

Dodd is in a Rhode Island hospital reportedly suffering from nervous exhaustion.

Scott has been in England lecturing at Oxford University. Early Tuesday he received a call from the White House and was advised a military plane would fly him here in time to vote at the Judiciary Committee meeting.

A spokesman for Ervin, after learning that Scott was being rushed back to Washington, said only that the vote will be "awfully close."

Stock Prices Drop Again

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued a fairly steep decline early this afternoon in active trading.

Losses outnumbered gains by about 2-1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 5.15 at 883.03.

Analysts saw the retreat as a continuation of Tuesday's breakthrough of the Aug. 30 low. Lower earnings also affected stocks of corporations affected.

A minority of issues, however, made a very strong showing. Some Wall Street opinion was that prudent investors could well pick up stock at current levels in anticipation of a year-end rally.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 1.1 at 320.1 with industrials off 2.4, rails off .4 and utilities off .1. Rheem, up 3 points was leading the list on volume.

Some issues were making strides even while the closely watched Dow Jones averages were taking a beating.

Prices declined in fairly active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Children Killed

SAIGON (AP)—The down draft from the rotor blades of a heavily loaded U. S. Army helicopter collapsed a rural building Tuesday on a group of Vietnamese children, killing two of them and injuring nine, a U. S. military spokesman reported.

The House-passed bill is part of an omnibus civil rights measure submitted to Congress by President Johnson in mid-February.

It provides stiff criminal penalties for injuring or intimidating a person because he is exercising federally guaranteed rights and because of his race, color, religion, national origin or political affiliation.

Ervin's substitute provides for the same penalties but no showing of racial, religious or other discrimination would be required. Under his bill, federal protection would extend to all citizens.

State Solons Strike Snag Over Money

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Legislators have run into a hitch in discussions about spending $40 million on anticipated state construction projects — how to raise the money.

The House Finance Committee headed by Rep. Ralph E. Fisher R-24 Wayne, opened hearings on the matter Tuesday and State Auditor Roger Cloud expressed concern about possible spending procedures.

Legislators have been thinking about having the State Industrial Commission trust fund purchase $40 million in bonds from an Ohio Building Authority.

In turn, new office space created in the construction would be leased to various state departments to pay off the bonds.

The trouble is that the constitution limits the state debt of $750,000 unless voters approve an increased deficit.

And without going before voters, Cloud said, the sale of construction bonds possibly could be construed as state debt. Fisher agreed.

Runaway Cases Heard by Court

A local boy, 17, was accused in Juvenile Court of taking a 14-year-old girl with him, without her parents' knowledge, when he and three other juveniles ran away from home.

The youth, found guilty by Judge Cline, was made a ward of the court for three years, sentenced to six months in jail and a $50 fine. Detention and the fine were suspended with the requirement that he contribute 100 hours to community work.

The 14-year-old girl was brought before the court, on charges levied by her parents, of leaving home without permission. She was made a ward of the court for three years and is required to contribute 100 hours service in community work.

Also brought before the bench of Judge Guy Cline was a 16-year-old girl charged with truancy and being in violation of her probation. She was committed to the Pickaway County Child Welfare Board for placement in the Children's Home.

Akron Man Awaits Murder Sentence

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A 34-year-old Akron man is awaiting sentence on a first-degree murder conviction in the fatal shooting of Arthur Snell, chief assistant Summit County prosecutor, last July 10.

A panel of three common pleas judges convicted Frederick T. Orr Jr. Tuesday but recommended mercy, saving him from the death penalty.

Judges Claude V. D. Emmons, L. A. Lombardi and Evan J. Reed delayed sentence pending a motion for a new trial. They deliberated nearly an hour on the verdict and the degree of murder. Orr had pleaded guilty to a general charge of homicide.

Women Workers

Woman's place may be in the home, as the saying goes, but she is joining the nation's labor force in such numbers as to become a major factor in the employment picture.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics attributes last month's surprisingly steep rise in the jobless rate chiefly to the large number of unemployed women. Normally about 500,000 adult females enter the labor force in September, but nearly a million started looking for jobs for the first time last month. As a consequence, 250,000 were added to the ranks of jobless women.

The over-all unemployment rate was reported at 4.1 per cent, the highest in two years. Also, the rise from August's rate of 3.8 per cent was the sharpest monthly increase in five years.

Since employment in September normally drops from August as farm activity declines and student workers return to classes, the drop in total employment was not unexpected. Actually, the relatively small decline was remarkable in view of the fact that about 235,000 more persons were on strike in September than in the preceding month.

Strikers are not considered unemployed, but because they are not on payrolls, they do not appear in the employment figures.

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is a great communicator.

By linking the past to the present it enables us to plan or anticipate what the future may be.

Memory is both the keystone and springboard of thought. Were there no memories to give them a framework of meaning, our thoughts would be no more than blind sparks in a void, brilliant but incoherent.

As we manufacture memories, memories manufacture us.

And you've been a pretty busy assembly line yourself if you can look back and remember when—

It was a mark of social prestige to be greeted by name by the conductor of the streetcar you ride to work in the morning.

Every girl who didn't have naturally curly hair thought fate had conspired against her.

Childhood was unknowingly cheated because all kids could do with gum then was chew it—none had yet come up with the idea of building bubbles into it.

Men were divided into two classes—those who could grow a fine walrus mustache, and those who had to find some other avenue to distinction.

Some dentists put up signs to assure nervous potential patients that their ministrations were absolutely painless.

A showoff was a guy who owned a wristwatch—and bragged about it.

It was a personal triumph to ride 100 miles in summer on a railroad train and keep from getting a chlder in your eye. Even so, at the end of the trip, your collar was pretty sure to be sooty.

If a fellow lost something and couldn't find it anywhere else, more than likely it would turn up later in one of his left vest pockets.

A spendthrift was a working man who bought a new suit with only one pair of pants. A sport was any man under 40 who owned a genu-wine Panama hat. A dude was a guy who wore spats during the middle of he week.

When you went on a journey by airplane, all you could get was coffee, tea or milk.

The greatest bargain in America was the penny postcard.

It was widely predicted that if women took up cigarette smoking we would be turned into a nation of female consumptives.

One of the arguments against automatic windshield wipers was that they would distract the drivers and cause more accidents.

If people wanted something but couldn't afford it, they did without it.

Millionaire Actor

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What a nice millionaire like G. D. Spradlin doing in the acting business? He's having the time of his life, that's what, and he doesn't care who knows it.

"There is something about acting that is a joyful experience," he says in warm, Oklahoma-accented tones. "I hope to stay in the profession for the rest of my days."

This is an unusual decision for Spradlin, who has known several other careers. At least one of them—as an oil man—proved wildly successful.

The saga of Gervase Duan Spradlin — he uses the initials for his billing—began Aug. 1, 1925, in Daylight Township, Okla., where his parents were dirt farmers. After a boyhood of following a mule and a plow, he came to the conclusion that the farm life wasn't for him.

Spradlin sold life insurance to work his way through the University of Oklahoma Law School, later went to South America as legal officer for Phillips Petroleum.

"I stayed there three years, long enough to make a nest egg—I wasn't paying income tax out of the country," he said. "Then I went back to Oklahoma and put the nest egg into the oil business."

He got lucky—and rich enough to retire in 1960 at the age of 35. But the rangy Oklahoman grew restless and started up an electronics business. After two years of intense work, he had developed the enterprise to the point where he could retire again.

"This time I took my wife and two daughters to Florida," he related. "I studied at the University of Miami, taking a master's in history. But much of the time we just cruised the Bahamas, where the life is easy and the water is clear as gin."

"Unfortunately the life was too easy, and the shade of John Calvin came to me with the lesson that idleness is sin. I finally had to agree with Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr., who said: 'Just as all life is action and passion, a man must engage himself in the passion and action of his time or risk being judged not to have lived.'"

Back Spradlin went to Oklahoma City. He had been county manager for John F. Kennedy's 1960 campaign, and in 1965 he decided to enter the race for mayor. He ran a poor second in a field of four.

Then a happy accident occurred.

"The Oklahoma City Mummies is the second oldest repertory company in America and one of the few that is self-supporting—a tribute more to the loyalty of the citizens than to the quality of the productions. The company helps maintain this loyalty by Mummies tryouts, at which any person seeking to become an actor can audition."

"Well, it happened that one of my daughters was stagestruck, and I agreed to drive her to the tryouts. But I learned I was expected to be a participant, not merely a chauffeur. I was called on to do a scene with my daughter. To my surprise, I was later offered the role of Duke in 'Cat on a Hot Tin Roof.'"

The result: "I liked it, and they liked me." A few more roles convinced Spradlin to try for the big time and "like other Okies before me, I loaded my bedsprings and all my belongings on my Model A Ford and headed for California." One suspects it was a private jet.

Spradlin, using the same salesmanship with which he had sold insurance as a law student, acquired an agent and began getting jobs in series like "Gomer Pyle" and "I Spy." Then he landed his first feature, in a small but impressive role as cattle boss in "Will Penny," starring Charlton Heston. "I'm here to stay," the millionaire actor insists.

The World Today

By EDMOND LeBRETON (For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is getting his lumps for a reason that took time to reveal itself. He is not the same master politician in dealing with the nation that he once was with Congress.

Trying to win national approval is a relatively new experience for him, outside his training. And public opinion polls show his rating going down, down.

True, he won the 1964 election overwhelmingly. But his opponent was Barry Goldwater, a man out of date with his times. The long pull in the test of Johnson's leadership and popularity began after the election, not before.

In American history there probably has never been a Democratic majority leader in the Senate in the same class with Johnson while he was leader there from 1955 through 1960.

That was the climax of 24 years of his life in Congress where he became a specialist in getting things done. And the way he got them done required not only approval for what he wanted but personal handling.

But he can't deal with a whole nation the way he did with individual senators whom he tackled in several ways.

—He dealt with them head-to-head on the telephone, in his office, or in the Senate cloakroom before voting time.

—He didn't seek total victories. He was willing to yield a point to gain a vote for a whole bill. The result might be less than the idealists wanted like the 1957 civil rights bill, the first approved in this century. But in getting it through Johnson achieved more than anyone else had been able to.

He once reportedly said of himself: "I'm a compromiser and a maneuverer. I try to get something. That's the way our system works."

—He also could have said he was a manipulator. He made it his business to know everything he could about his fellow senators: Their strength, weaknesses, interests, needs, desires and political obligations.

With all that in his head, when he asked for a senator's vote, he was in a good position to try to help the helper some other way. The result was that a lot of senators felt obliged to him, and friendly.

To put it another way, Johnson was a marvelous behind-the-scenes operator.

But since he can't call the whole nation on the phone, or into his office or into the cloakroom for the head-to-head stuff, he must depend on winning public approval through speeches, statements and performance.

But even in the Senate Johnson was not a distinguished speaker. He's not a good one. He's awkward at it. It's not his field. Making people see things his way, by dealing with them personally, is.

He is self-conscious about his speech-making and realized some time ago he was not at his best on television. That accounts, no doubt, for the infrequency of his TV talks in the past two years compared with before that.

The national frustration over the rash of racial riots in the past few years rubs off on Johnson if only because he has done nothing notable to solve them. It's hard to see how he could in the time he's had.

But it's the Vietnamese war which has damaged him most for several reasons: it has dragged out, victory is not in sight, the longer it lasts the more American lives are lost and Johnson's detailed explanations to the nation have been few.

That leaves a vacuum in public thinking about the war. Since Johnson isn't doing much to fill the vacuum with explanations, his critics are. The war, taking up more and more of his time, has meant less time for him to try his old magic with Congress which put on one of its greatest performances in 1965, when the Vietnamese war was just building up, but nothing like it since.

The result: Johnson has lost control of Congress where a great performance, produced by his manipulation, might do much to offset the criticism he gets on the war. Meanwhile, his critics in Congress grow by the day.

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

What is meant by a detachment of the retina of the eye? What causes it and can it be corrected?

The retina is a thin layer of light-sensitive tissue which lines the inside of the eyeball towards the back of it. For a better understanding it can be likened to the film in the back of a camera.

Normally, when light enters into the eye it affects the retina which sends vibrations to the optic nerve and then to the brain. There it is transformed into an image.

The sensitive "photographic" plate of the retina is firmly attached to the eye. Occasionally, a severe injury to the head or to the eye may cause a rip in the retina.

The blood that seeps beneath it separates it from the wall. Other causes of detachment may be a small tumor and, in the elderly, arteriosclerosis of the blood vessel to the retina.

When the retina becomes detached there may be a sudden dark patch or veil over the eye so that vision is interfered with. The degree with which sight is affected depends, of course, on how large an area of the retina is detached. Sometimes spots in front of the eyes with blurring of vision and changes of shapes of objects occur.

The diagnosis of this condition is made very exactly by the eye specialist. With special instruments every millimeter of the eye can be examined for tears or rupture of the retina.

This is indeed a serious condition which demands immediate expert treatment and surgery. The past 15 years have brought remarkable advances in the treatment of this condition.

The use of diathermy coagulation, the laser beam and cryo-surgery have been responsible for the preservation of sight in many cases of retina detachment that might otherwise have resulted in blindness.

What is the best way to remove a foreign body from the eye?

The protective lubrication of the eye guards many of us from the soot, dust, diesel fuel and coal dust that fly freely in the polluted air of large cities. These foreign bodies are usually washed out with the tears and rarely cause trouble.

Occasionally, a speck may lodge on the lining of the upper lid. If the upper lid is gently pulled out and drawn down to cover the lower lid, in most instances that is all that is necessary to remove it.

Sometimes it is necessary to turn back the upper lid to look for an imbedded particle. The eyelashes are gently pulled downward and the lid turned over a thin pencil or a matchstick. If the particle is seen it can be wiped off gently with moist cleaning tissue or moist cotton.

If a particle is seen on the cornea of the eye it is best left alone until removed by a physician. Sometimes it is necessary to put a single drop of anesthetic in the eye to make the removal painless.

The eye cannot be handled roughly. Rubbing the eyelid simply fixes the foreign body more firmly so that when it is removed it may leave a tiny, painful ulcer that takes some time to heal.

If your own physician is not available, the emergency room of a hospital insures competent handling of this simple problem.

Non-skid tape in the bathtub prevents many painful injuries.

The Party's Over

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

What to do when the party's over? This seems to be the question for a lot of Americans who have been dodging reality.

In Washington, President Johnson is still trying to eat his fiscal cake and have it, too. He wants his tax increase—a small matter — variously estimated at $6.3 to $13 billion in revenue — but Chairman Wilbur Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee won't give it to him without compensatory cuts in government spending, and LBJ is the last man to want to get involved with specific recommendations for cuts in the Great Society programs which he himself has authored. Congress is unwilling to slice away at obvious fat, such as agricultural support money, or fund to keep urban redevelopment busy at the incongruous business of Negro removal. Nobody wants to accept the responsibility for doing away with anything that has already become part of the elaborate issue of inner-pressure group trade-offs.

So we have Rep. Wilbur Mills' hardboiled statement: "Our tax revenue can never keep up with the kind of spending we now see. It might be better to have the twenty-nine billion dollar deficit give, with all the problems it might generate, just to show everyone we cannot go this way." The public, which is three-to-one against a tax increase, is with Congressman Mills all the way.

Meanwhile the New Economy boys are complaining that the public is letting them down. According to their elaborate neo-Keynesian formulas, the common man should be willing to take a tax increase in times of full employment in return for compensatory tax repeal during the downturn of the industrial cycle. But the common man is no fool, for he can see that government spending is a racket-action phenomenon: you push it up, it becomes a vested interest, and if you propose higher taxes to pay for it, those taxes get siphoned off in added increments of government outlay that are made necessary to support the very people and the organizations that are taxed. Long ago that great and good Swiss economist, Wilhelm Roepke, whose teachings inspired the West German economic "miracle" of 1948-1960, predicted that the New Economics would not prove compatible with democracy, so we can't say that we weren't warned.

If the party is over for the President, the Congress and the prophets of neo-Keynesian compensatory action, it is also over for those who thought they could fight a war without admitting that it was a war.

The rage of the young against the draft stems from this hypocrisy. Here they had been brought up to understand that bridges were about to be built to Communism, and that our commitment to a small country in southeast Asia could be handled without anyone's being made to suffer inconvenience. Suddenly they discover that a war is a war even when it hasn't been declared and that they can't escape the draft by going on to graduate school. Yet their intellectuals (see the symposium in a recent issue of Commentary Magazine) assure them that the Communist world, since its fragmentation into several "polycentric" areas, is no longer a menace. If this is true, why fight to keep "polycentrism" from moving into one more area? The possibility that polycentric Communism might be even more dangerous than the monolithic variety is something that no accredited intellectual is prepared to accept, so how can one blame the imitative young — and everyone is necessarily imitative until experience has taught him something — for going along with their teachers?

I was appalled to read of a forthcoming "hippie" party to be staged for the teenage children of our Country Club set.

It made me wonder if this type of affair, such as it is being called, will be replete with all things currently associated with "hippies."

Certainly, it is time that parents set forth and abide by principles of living that will produce citizens and parents of tomorrow which the United States of America may be justly proud to show the world.

I am assuming this is strictly a "fun" party with no intention of producing permanent "hippies". However, I fail, as a parent, to accept this inept humor.

The Circleville newspaper was titled the Daily Union Herald.

Members of the Mt. Pleasant Funeral Directors Association comprising the counties of Fairfield, Hocking, Perry and Pickaway, their wives and guests met at the Boggs Hotel. After the dinner hour, wives of members were entertained at the Grand Opera House while members held a business meeting.

A jolly crowd motored to Stoutsville for a wiener roast on the campgrounds. Wieners were roasted, marshmallows toasted and coffee was made (cocoa for the kiddies). Games were enjoyed afterwards. Grown-ups and children gathered around the bonfire for the exciting telling of ghost stories. As the group dispersed, all agreed it had been an evening of rare enjoyment.

A local resident was placed under arrest in front of the police station by the police department. He was charged with illegal possession as he had a pint of moonshine in his hip pocket.

Coach Roshon was preparing his team for the game with Washington C. H. Circleville had suffered three previous defeats by this team. Probable lineup — Mack, McCrady, Mogan, Barnhill, Grant, Carpenter, Goeller, Bales, Davis, Dumm and Peters.

Republican City Ticket — For Mayor, B. T. Hedges; Councilman, second ward, Fred H. Fissell; third ward, Clark Will.

The Yellow Jackets of Greenfield stung the Circleville Tigers 12 to 6.

A 16-month-old boy was killed while playing in the cemetery at Commercial Point. As he climbed a tombstone, the stone toppled over throwing him to the ground, fell on the child, killing him instantly.

E. S. Neuding, 215 E. Main St., advertised fresh oysters, celery, cranberries, homemade mayonnaise and combination relish and their own "star coffee."

The PTA of Muhlenberg Twp. met for the October meeting. The president reported that several members of the organization had met and canned 60 cans of tomatoes to be used for the hot lunches at school during the winter. It was decided to again have hot lunches. A collection was to be held in the near future for that purpose.

Hatlo's They'll Do It Every Time

Women Workers

Woman's place may be in the home, as the saying goes, but she is joining the nation's labor force in such numbers as to become a major factor in the employment picture.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics attributes last month's surprisingly steep rise in the jobless rate chiefly to the large number of unemployed women. Normally about 500,000 adult females enter the labor force in September, but nearly a million started looking for jobs for the first time last month. As a consequence, 250,000 were added to the ranks of jobless women.

The over-all unemployment rate was reported at 4.1 per cent, the highest in two years. Also, the rise from August's rate of 3.8 per cent was the sharpest monthly increase in five years.

Since employment in September normally drops from August as farm activity declines and student workers return to classes, the drop in total employment was not unexpected. Actually, the relatively small decline was remarkable in view of the fact that about 235,000 more persons were on strike in September than in the preceding month.

Strikers are not considered unemployed, but because they are not on payrolls, they do not appear in the employment figures.

Congress is unwilling to slice away at obvious fat, such as agricultural support money, or fund to keep urban redevelopment busy at the incongruous business of Negro removal. Nobody wants to accept the responsibility for doing away with anything that has already become part of the elaborate issue of inner-pressure group trade-offs.

So we have Rep. Wilbur Mills' hardboiled statement: "Our tax revenue can never keep up with the kind of spending we now see. It might be better to have the twenty-nine billion dollar deficit give, with all the problems it might generate, just to show everyone we cannot go this way." The public, which is three-to-one against a tax increase, is with Congressman Mills all the way.

Meanwhile the New Economy boys are complaining that the public is letting them down. According to their elaborate neo-Keynesian formulas, the common man should be willing to take a tax increase in times of full employment in return for compensatory tax repeal during the downturn of the industrial cycle. But the common man is no fool, for he can see that government spending is a ratchet-action phenomenon: you push it up, it becomes a vested interest, and if you propose higher taxes to pay for it, those taxes get siphoned off in added increments of government outlay that are made necessary to support the very people and the organizations that are taxed. Long ago that great and good Swiss economist, Wilhelm Roepke, whose teachings inspired the West German economic "miracle" of 1948-1960, predicted that the New Economics would not prove compatible with democracy, so we can't say that we weren't warned.

If the party is over for the President, the Congress and the prophets of neo-Keynesian compensatory action, it is also over for those who thought they could fight a war without admitting that it was a war.

The rage of the young against the draft stems from this hypocrisy. Here they had been brought up to understand that bridges were about to be built to Communism, and that our commitment to a small country in southeast Asia could be handled without anyone's being made to suffer inconvenience. Suddenly they discover that a war is a war even when it hasn't been declared and that they can't escape the draft by going on to graduate school. Yet their intellectuals (see the symposium in a recent issue of Commentary Magazine) assure them that the Communist world, since its fragmentation into several "polycentric" areas, is no longer a menace. If this is true, why fight to keep "polycentrism" from moving into one more area? The possibility that polycentric Communism might be even more dangerous than the monolithic variety is something that no accredited intellectual is prepared to accept, so how can one blame the imitative young — and everyone is necessarily imitative until experience has taught him something — for going along with their teachers?

The Circleville newspaper was titled the Daily Union Herald.

Members of the Mt. Pleasant Funeral Directors Association comprising the counties of Fairfield, Hocking, Perry and Pickaway, their wives and guests met at the Boggs Hotel. After the dinner hour, wives of members were entertained at the Grand Opera House while members held a business meeting.

A jolly crowd motored to Stoutsville for a wiener roast on the campgrounds. Wieners were roasted, marshmallows toasted and coffee was made (cocoa for the kiddies). Games were enjoyed afterwards. Grown-ups and children gathered around the bonfire for the exciting telling of ghost stories. As the group dispersed, all agreed it had been an evening of rare enjoyment.

A local resident was placed under arrest in front of the police station by the police department. He was charged with illegal possession as he had a pint of moonshine in his hip pocket.

Coach Roshon was preparing his team for the game with Washington C. H. Circleville had suffered three previous defeats by this team. Probable line-up — Mack, McCrady, Mogan, Barnhill, Grant, Carpenter, Goeller, Bales, Davis, Dumm and Peters.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, Oct. 25, the 298th day of 1967. There are 67 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: on this date in 1936, the Fascist governments of Germany and Italy formed the Rome-Berlin Axis, pledging mutual assistance in case of war.

On this date:

In 1701, a city charter was granted to Philadelphia.

In 1854, Britain's charge of the Light Brigade occurred during the Crimean War.

In 1938, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek established a provisional capital at Chungking, China.

In 1941, Nazi troops captured Kharkov in the Soviet Ukraine.

In 1940 labor leader John L. Lewis made a broadcast opposing the re-election of President Franklin D. Roosevelt for a third term.

Ten years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan conferred in Washington on means of strengthening the Western Alliance.

Five years ago — The U. S. Navy stopped a Soviet ship bound for Cuba but permitted it to proceed since it was not carrying missiles.

One year ago — Former Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio was sentenced to death for his part in a Communist attempt to seize control of Indonesia.

Auxiliary Unit
Holds Session
In Post Home

Unit 134 American Legion Auxiliary met Monday at the Post Home. Mrs. Orin Dreisbach, chaplain, opened the meeting with prayer. Music was provided by Mrs. Betty Woods.

President, Mrs. Eleanor Price, conducted a short business meeting. Reports were read to the group.

Mrs. Price, Mrs. Martha LaGrow, Mrs. Dreisbach, Mrs. Lucille Pickel, Mrs. Stenobe Stonerock, Mrs. Jean Moon and Mrs. Mildred Campbell represented the local unit at the Seventh District's Fall Conference in Chillicothe recently.

At the conference it was announced that Mrs. Stonerock had received a National Award in the Century Club for securing one-hundred or more new members. The local unit's Poppy Scrapbook, which won first place in the state, received an honorable recognition in the national contest.

Members representing the unit in the Thursday evening Pumpkin Show parade were: Mrs. Price, Mrs. LaGrow, Mrs. Pickel, Mrs. Margaret Crites, and Mrs. Stonerock. The Color Guard from Hall-Adkins Post was also in this parade.

Mrs. Roann Stinson, child welfare chairman, gave a report on families helped in September and October with clothing. A box of clothing was sent to the Soldiers and Sailors Orphans Home at Xenia.

Mrs. Bess Simson, rehabilitation chairman, reported on the monthly visit to Ward 211-C at the Veterans Hospital in Chillicothe. Entertainment and refreshments were provided for 35 patients. Those attending were Mrs. Stonerock, Mrs. Ethel Stout, Mrs. Cecelia Hoffman, Mrs. Stinson, Maggie Mavis, Mrs. June Darst, Mrs. Gertrude Webbe and Mrs. Simson. A birthday gift was presented to one of the patients. These monthly visits are made possible with funds collected on Poppy Day each year in May.

An Americanism report was presented by Mrs. Margaret Crites.

Commander, James Price, thanked all members who helped with the fish stand at the Pumpkin Show.

Mrs. Dreisbach closed the meeting with prayer. Refreshments in keeping with the Halloween theme were served from a decorated table by Mrs. Gertrude Webbe and Mrs. Orin Dreisbach.

When you are baking a chocolate marble cake, put large spoonfuls of the white and chocolate portions into your cake pan, then use a table knife to cut through the batter in zig-zag fashion to create the desired effect.

The Sewing and Knitting group of Newcomers' Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Karen Schieman, 345 Sunset Drive. A beginning course in knitting is being taught by Mrs. Jackie Whitfield.

Refreshments were served to the seven members present: Joan Allegrezza, Carol Miller, Carolyn Boles, Joan Winkler, Marilyn Ganley, Karen Schieman and Pauline Farmer.

The next meeting of the group will take place 7:30 p.m. Nov. 6, in the home of Mrs. Carolyn Boles, 550 Plaza Drive.

Personals

Mrs. J. E. Chester, Collins Court; Mrs. O. J. Towers, E. Union St.; Mrs. Florence Baker, 295 Lewis Road, and Mrs. Lyman Penn of Route 1, have returned from a seven-day circle tour of Florida. The route was from Jacksonville back to Jacksonville. While in Miami Beach they flew to Nassau and toured the island and lunched at the British Colonial Hotel.

The Rev. and Mrs. Wiley R. Baker have returned from a vacation trip to Florida and other points of interest on the tour. They traveled down the Gulf Coast, visited the Keys, spent some time with Mrs. William Collier and family of Dearfield Beach, and spent four days at Kure Beach, N.C., on their way home up the East Coast.

Engagement
Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Roese of South Bloomfield announce the engagement of their daughter, Katherine L. to Earl E. Criswell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Smith of Marion.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Ashville High School and is employed by Athlete Specialty in Columbus. Mr. Criswell, a graduate of Prospect High School is associated with Dowler's Farm.

A June wedding is planned.

Pontious EUB
Classes Will Meet

WSWS and Willing Workers classes of Pontious EUB Church plan to meet 2 p.m. Thursday, in the home of Mrs. Grace Leist, 304 E. Mound St.

Members are requested to be dressed in Halloween costumes.

Hear Testimony
In Murder Case

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Three Summit County Common Pleas Court judges heard testimony Tuesday in the case of Frederick T. Orr Jr., 34, charged with the fatal shooting July 10 of Arthur Snell, Trumbull County chief assistant county prosecutor.

Orr pleaded guilty Monday to a general charge of homicide and the judges will decide the degree.

Snell was shot four times in a Wooster Avenue bar after an argument between Snell and Orr's cousin, Marvin Foster, police said.

Foster, 24, had tried to stab Snell and was knocked down, according to police. Orr told police he was trying to protect his cousin when he shot Snell.

Delicious for brunch: Broil cheese-covered slices of toast until the cheese melts, then top each slice with a poached egg and a sprinkle of paprika.

How Weather
Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather:

Strong southwesterly winds and precipitation were general over Ohio during the night. Both were associated with an intense low pressure area centered in northern Lake Michigan and moving slowly north.

Cold air was sweeping eastward around the south side of the low into Western Pennsylvania early this morning. Temperatures at 6 a.m. were in the mid 40s in the western part of Ohio, ranging to around 50 in the extreme east. Temperatures today will only climb into the 50s, compared with Tuesday highs mostly in the 70s.

The heaviest precipitation occurred in the southwestern part of the state during the night, with nearly .5 inch reported in some areas. The remainder of the state generally received only one tenth of an inch or less. Showers early this morning in the extreme east were expected to end before noon.

Winds will diminish slowly tonight and low temperatures will be in the 30s and lower 40s. Partly cloudy skies and continued cool weather is forecast for Thursday.

FORECASTS

OHIO — Variable cloudiness south west and considerable cloudiness remainder today and tonight. Slowly diminishing winds tonight. Much cooler. Low tonight in 30s and 40s. Thursday partly cloudy and cool.

CENTRAL OHIO—Cloudy and cooler tonight, low in mid 30s. Thursday variable cloudiness and cool, high near 50.

SOUTHEAST OHIO — Cloudy and cooler tonight, low in mid and upper 30s. Thursday cloudy and cool.

SOUTHWEST OHIO—Tonight clearing and cooler. Low 34-39. Thursday mostly sunny and not quite as cool.

NORTHWEST OHIO — Partly cloudy and cool tonight and Thursday. Low tonight around 30.

Reagan Talks

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A severe chest cold today threatened to cancel Gov. Ronald Reagan's three-day trip to six cities, beginning with a GOP fund-raising address in Des Moines, Iowa, tonight.

Reagan, who returned to Sacramento Saturday night from the National Governors Conference, was so hoarse by the end of a 30-minute news conference Tuesday he had trouble talking.

Reagan's schedule called for him to lecture at Kansas State University in Manhattan Thursday, address Republican affairs in Dallas and Houston later the same day, speak to the Illinois Chamber of Commerce in Chicago Friday noon and address a Republican dinner in Cincinnati Friday night.

NEW YORK (AP)—California Gov. Ronald Reagan credits luck and accident for his interception at sea of a White House radiogram—but the break may have been a bad one for the chief radio officer of the SS Independence.

Ship's Capt. Charles E. Reilly announced Tuesday the head man in the radio shack has been suspended pending completion of an investigation of the affair by American Export-Isbrandtsen Lines.

Commenting on the suspension, Reagan said later: "It's shocking. It was so obviously easy for a mistake of this kind to happen. I know for a fact that it happened with other messages. This action smacks of persecution. This is the Great Society at its benevolent best."

Reilly said Chief Radio Opera-

'Wild Man'
Is Dead

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP)—Accused mass murderer Leo Held died today at Lock Haven Hospital of bullet wounds suffered in a blazing gun battle with police Monday.

A hospital administrator said Held's death about 6:30 a.m. resulted from a blood clot to his heart.

Held, a 40-year-old former school board member, was charged with murdering six persons and wounding six others during a shooting spree.

His death rules out the chance officers will ever learn what triggered the rampage. They had not questioned him because of the critical nature of his wounds and because of fear of violating his constitutional rights.

Authorities, Held's family and area residents are still mystified as to what prompted the shootings by the laboratory technician.

Held was wounded by state and local police during a gun duel in his backyard.

Five of the persons wounded in the shootings remained in Lock Haven Hospital. Three are in critical condition, one is serious and the other is satisfactory.

OSU Queen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It's Homecoming at Ohio State University this Saturday and the field of coeds competing to become queen has been reduced to 10.

Balloting will take place at various points on the campus Thursday and the Homecoming queen will be announced at a dance Friday night.

The finalists: Iris Vargo, 20, Cleveland; Jean Medley, 19, Columbus; Patricia M. Demsey, 20, Delaware; Terrye Elser, 19, New Orleans, La.; Joan L. Lindstedt, 20, Cuyahoga Falls; Karen Lanman, 19, Pataskala; Lesa Paschuck, 21, Woodstown; Donna Meves, 21, Alliance; Carole Smatt, 20, Brooklyn, Ohio; and Betsy Wones, 19, Mount Gilead.

dent, and denied that any member of his party had a part in obtaining the message.

"I did not intercept someone else's mail," Reagan added. "I did not read someone else's mail knowingly." He said he never tried to find out how the message got to him.

"Why should I inquire into my luck?" Reagan said.

Reilly announced suspension of the radio operator after the independence docked in New York, with 26 governors still aboard. Others Reagan among them, had flown home earlier from the Virgin Islands.

That ended an eight-day governors' voyage that blended politics with tourism in the Caribbean sun.

The Reagan-radiogram affair added a dash of political intrigue. Just how the message strayed remained a mystery.

Trade Center
Hearings Continue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes' advisory committee is about ready to wind up this week's hearings on a proposed site for an international trade center, but other cities will make their bids later.

So far, Akron, Lorain, Columbus and Cincinnati have made presentations of site possibilities with representatives from the Cleveland area prepared to submit their plans today.

At Tuesday's hearing, a planning group from Cincinnati suggested a 1,400-acre tract near the Queen City's Lunken Airport as a possible site.

The international trade mart was proposed by Rhodes. It would be a statewide coordinating center for import-export activities.

The hearings will resume next Nov. 18 and will be concluded about three days later.

THREE GRISLY MURDERS are being investigated with arrest of these two men. In Allegan, Mich., Theodore Williams, 27, said to be "awfully good to children," follows Sheriff Robert Whitcomb in the jail after admitting the murder of Sonja Santa Cruz, 7, and leading officers to the "grave" of longtime missing Laura Jo Sutcliffe, 13. And in Gibbstown, N.J., handcuffed Edward Wilkins is escorted by Sgt. Albert Marshall after his arrest in the beating murder of 19-year-old Wendy Mary McCants (inset), whose nude body was found near Penns Grove, N.J.

Lynda Bird Fears She'll Not Be Good Housewife

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Lynda Johnson says she is excited and "very, very happy" as she prepares for her Dec. 9 White House wedding — but "scared to death" about housekeeping.

The President's 23-year-old daughter frankly admits "I'm not very domestic" and, except for things like brownies, "I don't know how to cook anything."

In talks with reporters, Lynda reveals a romantic, exuberant and anything-but-practical approach to her forthcoming marriage to 28-year-old Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb of Milwaukee, Wis.

She says "Chuck and I have never discussed money matters," and she doesn't even know how much Robb makes as a Marine captain. "I never asked him." It happens to be about $611 a month.

But Lynda herself is a substantial heiress and holds a part-time magazine job.

As newlyweds, they plan to rent a furnished apartment or house in or near Washington for the brief time Robb has before he leaves around the end of February for a year's duty in Vietnam.

Lynda doesn't know yet where they'll honeymoon. But, she's already talking about a trip to the Far East to join her husband when he "gets R and R" — rest and recuperation leave for which Marines are eligible after six months in Vietnam. She says she may join him "God willing" in Hawaii or in Australia which her service set friends tell her is currently "very popular."

Beyond Robb's Vietnam tour, the plans of the young couple remain undecided. Lynda was asked whether Robb might eventually leave the Marines and take a job with the Johnson family radio-television station in Texas like her brother-in-law, Patrick Nugent.

"I don't think anyone knows what he's going to do," Lynda replied. "He's going to Vietnam. When he gets back that will be his decision. We haven't discussed it."

Solon Criticizes Census Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—If present plans are used to conduct the 1970 census, the results could be chaotic, Rep. Jackson E. Betts, R-Ohio, told the House Postoffice Subcommittee today.

Betts predicted there would be a major undercount in urban areas. He said an eighth-grade education is required to fill out the long-form questionnaire and that many who don't have such a background will be missed.

The 1960 census was conducted by interview which required the hiring of 160,000 enumerators to visit the households of 179 million residents, Betts said. According to official Census Bureau reports, he said, the 1960 census failed to list 5,702,000 persons.

Lynda will take a leave of absence Nov. 1 from her magazine job and return to it when Robb goes to Vietnam. She's not sure if she'll stay in their rented quarters or go back to live in the White House then.

Lynda says she'll miss the White House, especially "the service." She admits she's "very lazy" and "I'll miss having someone to make a phone call."

As for her domestic plans, Lynda says she hopes to learn to cook. Happily, she notes that nowadays there are frozen foods to fall back on.

Lynda stood up gaily under a barrage of questions ranging from whether she spent $4,000 for a trousseau (she says she hasn't spent that "on my trousseau or my clothes") to whether she's going to invite ex-beau actor George Hamilton to the Dec. 9 wedding.

"I'm not going to give out the names of anyone on the guest list," Lynda declared. She said the hardest thing about the wedding is making out the guest list.

Some 500 friends and relatives are going to be invited. Lynda says they'll all have to stand during the Episcopal wedding ceremony because of space limitations in the historic East Room.

"It will be a White House wedding with military flavor," Lynda said. She plans to wear a long white wedding gown not yet selected—with long sleeves "because I happen to like long sleeves." Robb will wear his military uniform. Lynda isn't sure they'll have room for the traditional military touch—an archway of crossed swords.

Giveaway Contests Still Going Great Guns

By PHIL THOMAS
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Almost everybody likes something for nothing, and a few people are getting it from games that they don't really play but only enter.

All they usually have to do to have a chance at winning such prizes as sports cars, original oil paintings, mink coats, trips to Europe, color television sets or cash is sign their name and address and mail a numbered card or entry blank.

No more writing in 25 words or less why this product is better than that one, or trying to match two halves of something and hoping it makes one. The numbered card or the blank does the work.

These promotions are known as "sweepstakes" in the industry.

Jerry Poncher, board chairman of J&H International Corp., one of the firms that think up the games, says the sweepstakes promotions are modern versions of the 25-word contest.

"The old-style contests have just lost their punch," he says. "People don't have time to sit down and scribble 25 words or less about a product."

There are two basic types of sweepstakes.

The first usually requires a visit to the marketplace, such as a supermarket, drugstore, or restaurant to get an entry card or to check whether an entry card received by other means is a winner. The card is then mailed to the promotion sponsor or his agent.

Recent examples of this type are the "Olympic Sweepstakes" in which entry blanks are obtained at Howard Johnson's restaurants, and the Anacin "Holiday from Headaches Sweepstakes" which requires a trip to a store where Anacin is sold. The top prizes in each are trips—the first to Mexico City and the second to Europe.

The second type is handled by sending numbered cards through the mail or by inserting them in magazines. These numbered cards carry appeals to buy or subscribe to a variety of products, but all also emphasize there is no obligation to buy.

Recent examples of this type have been used by the Longines Symphonette Society and the New International Illustrated Encyclopedia of Art. Top prize in the first is a sports car and in the second an oil by the French Impressionist, Renoir.

Why the spurt in sweepstakes promotions on which many firms spend million annually?

"The giant companies are just beginning to jump on a successful promotion bandwagon," says Poncher. "The smaller, have used the sweepstakes promotion to make inroads in markets controlled by bigger companies. In order to meet this competition, the larger companies have turned to the sweepstakes promotion as well."

Rhodes, Reagan Get Together

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes will go to Cincinnati Friday to introduce California Gov. Ronald Reagan at a Republican rally at the city's new convention hall.

The chairman of the rally committee, John Hermanies, has said his office has already received 17,000 requests for tickets in the 12,000 seat auditorium. He said there would be some standing room.

Reagan will hold a press conference, appear at the $25-per-plate fund-raising dinner, and then address the rally.

Hermanies said the primary reason for the Reagan visit here is to aid the Cincinnati GOP municipal slate.

Kane says the names of winners rarely are published because the sweepstakes are of short duration and quickly forgotten. A list of winners, however, generally can be obtained by writing the sponsor.

"Many people think that sweepstakes contests must be rigged or that there must be a gimmick somewhere," Poncher says. "But nothing could be further from the truth. Everyone stands a fair chance of winning, and the industry goes to great lengths to make sure the sweepstakes is legitimate in every sense of the word."

A computer picks as many winners as the company wants to give prizes. These numbers then are placed under lock and key and the promotion mailing is made.

At the end of the contest period, the entries are hand-matched against the winning numbers. The winners are checked to make sure they are not ineligible because they are relatives or associates of employees of the firm sponsoring the sweepstakes. When this is done, the remaining winners are notified by mail and their prize is delivered.

Land Auction Set in Oregon

HEPPNER, Ore., (AP) — Want to get away from it all?

The U.S. Bureau of Land Management has announced that it will auction off 11,865 acres of desert land in eastern Oregon Nov. 24.

There isn't much there now except sand and sagebrush, but the BLM says with proper irrigation crops can be grown.

Ohio Participates in CD Exercise

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's Civil Defense organizations will take part in a nationwide Civil Defense exercise this week as a means of increasing readiness measures during periods of deteriorating international situations.

While the exercise will involve agencies, there will be no participation on the part of the general public and public warning signals will not be sounded.

So much more car

'68 CHEVY II NOVA COUPE

The day of the plain Jane economy car has come and gone. Chevrolet has something far finer to offer.

LONG HOOD, SHORT DECK

You get your economy now under Nova's new swept-back roof. You get your engine dependability under Nova's new long hood. You get your rust prevention beneath Nova's new rounded fenders and larger body.

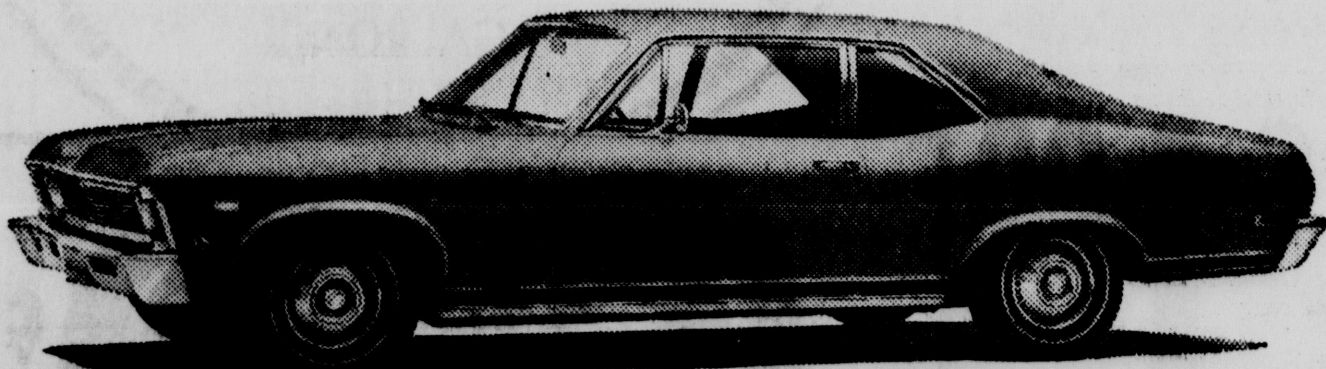

SUPERLATIVE RIDE

You get the smoothest in handling, too. The wheel stance is wider, the rear suspension has been redesigned, and there is a new cushion-mounted front end. Nova feels like it's a thousand pounds heavier. It rides with amazing silence and smoothness.

NEW ALL OVER

The grille is new. The interior is new. (There's even a special custom interior you can order, the likes of which no economy car has ever offered before.) The standard V8 is bigger, more powerful. So is the standard Six with its new Monojet carburetor that contributes to greater efficiency, economy and performance. There are many new safety features, including energy-absorbing front seat backs to go along with the proved GM-developed energy-absorbing steering column. And when you equip a Nova with the SS package, you look out under a special hood and black accented grille, housing a 350-cubic-inch Turbo-Fire V8.

Front to back, Chevy II Nova's now a driving enthusiast's kind of car but, fortunately for you, it still comes at a saving enthusiast's kind of price. Very low.

For so little: $2261.00

Manufacturer's suggested retail price for standard Six Chevy II Nova Coupe shown above includes Federal Excise Tax, suggested dealer delivery and handling charges. Model shown above equipped at additional cost with Custom Exterior $84.30, White Walls $31.35, Wheel Covers $21.10. Transportation charges, accessories, optional equipment, state and local taxes additional.

Be smart! Be sure! Buy now at your Chevrolet dealer's.

So much more car

'68 CHEVY II NOVA COUPE

The day of the plain Jane economy car has come and gone. Chevrolet has something far finer to offer.

LONG HOOD, SHORT DECK

You get your economy now under Nova's new swept-back roof. You get your engine dependability under Nova's new long hood. You get your rust prevention beneath Nova's new rounded fenders and larger body.

SUPERLATIVE RIDE

You get the smoothest in handling, too. The wheel stance is wider, the rear suspension has been redesigned, and there is a new cushion-mounted front end. Nova feels like it's a thousand pounds heavier. It rides with amazing silence and smoothness.

NEW ALL OVER

The grille is new. The interior is new. (There's even a special custom interior you can order, the likes of which no economy car has ever offered before.) The standard V8 is bigger, more powerful. So is the standard Six with its new Monojet carburetor that contributes to greater efficiency, economy and performance. There are many new safety features, including energy-absorbing front seat backs to go along with the proved GM-developed energy-absorbing steering column. And when you equip a Nova with the SS package, you look out over a special hood and black accented grille, housing a 350-cubic-inch Turbo-Fire V8.

Front to back, Chevy II Nova's now a driving enthusiast's kind of car but, fortunately for you, it still comes at a saving enthusiast's kind of price. Very low.

For so little: $2261⁰⁰

Manufacturer's suggested retail price for standard 5½ Chevy II Nova Coupe shown above includes Federal Excise Tax, suggested dealer delivery and handling charges. Model shown above equipped with Custom Exterior $24.30, White Walls $31.35, Wheel Covers $21.10. Transportation charges, accessories, optional equipment, state and local taxes additional.

Be smart! Be sure! Buy now at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Israel Holds Out For Direct Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign Minister Abba Eban of Israel challenged Tuesday any idea that his country might soften its insistence on direct peace talks with the Arabs.

"We shall interpret a refusal to meet us as a refusal to make peace," Eban said in a speech prepared for the National Press Club.

Diplomatic sources said Eban was distressed that some of his remarks Monday had been interpreted as meaning that Israel might agree to seek a Middle East solution without face-to-face talks with the Arab countries. He said direct talks were "the best way," but did not then say they were the only way.

Eban used even stronger terms in rejecting suggestions that Israel withdraw from the territories it occupied in the war last June.

"We shall never, never go back either to the political or juridical anarchy or to the strategic and territorial vulnerability from which we have emerged," he declared.

"Until the new peace map is negotiated, the present ceasefire map will be fully maintained. For the June 4 map . . . is gone forever," he added.

Eban referred only briefly to the sinking of the Israeli destroyer Elath by Egyptian missiles last Sunday.

This "flagrant aggression," he said, illustrates "the urgent need for a radical change in the structure of relations" between Israel and the Arabs.

Eban rejected any patchwork settlement and said it would be "totally irrational to renew any of the conditions which brought Israel to the brink of disaster and plunged the Middle East in war."

Israel, Eban continued, cannot "condone the idea that the Arab states are entitled to ostracize Israel while making claims against her; to request Israel's consideration while denying her existence."

PICKAWAY TWP. PTO

The Pickaway Twp. Parent Teacher Organization held open house preceding the October meeting.

The Pledge to the Flag was led by Phillip Manson and devotions were given by Diane Gifford and Mary Beth Evans, all fifth graders.

Mrs. Richard Huggins gave the secretary's report and the treasurer's report was given by Art Gifford. Roll call of rooms was taken with the second grade being the winner. The team of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Jon Sharrett was declared the winner in the membership drive.

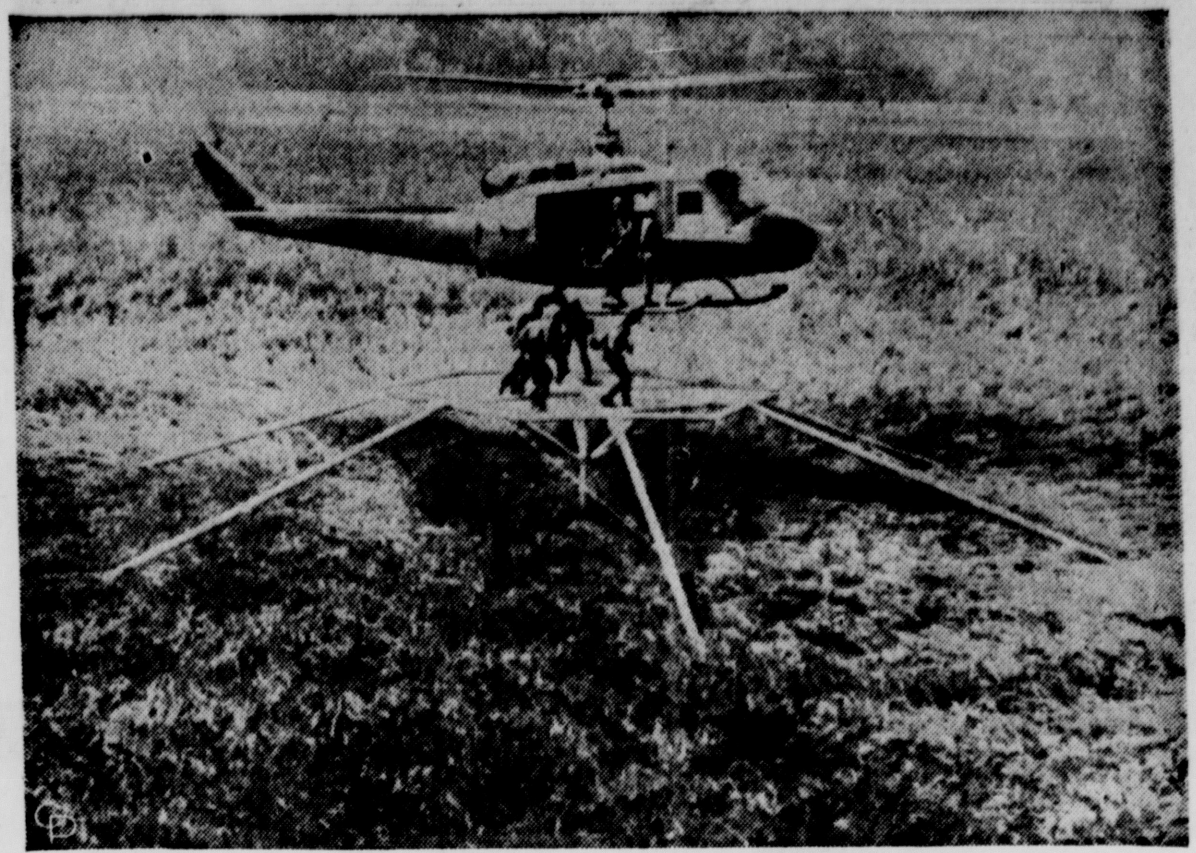

A motion was made to make a contribution to the purchase of uniforms for the junior-high football team.

Carl Smith, a guest speaker, discussed zoning which will be on the November ballot. Mrs. James Fosnaugh announced committees for the annual Halloween Carnival which will be held Sat., Oct. 28.

A feature of the evening was an apple and pumpkin pie baking contest. The pies were served as refreshments.

Winners were: Apple Pie — Mrs. Raymond Moats, Mrs. Gallimore, Mrs. David Evans. Pumpkin Pie — Mrs. Larry Beougher, Mrs. Raymond Moats, Mrs. George Minshall.

Reveal Slain Macedonia Man in Debt to Bookies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cuyahoga County Sheriff James J. McGettrick says he has learned that George A. Westrich Jr., found slain in his car in suburban Independence Tuesday, was heavily in debt to horse race bookies.

McGettrick said he learned the 31-year-old Macedonia man owed some $8,500 on horse race bets.

Westrich was a race track buff and a onetime horse owner, but one track habitue remarked that he "hung around with a bad bunch."

A neighbor noted that he kept "odd hours" and that "quite a strange looking crowd of men were always around."

He also had been in trouble with the law recently, was caught by police during an alleged jewelry store burglary in Akron and was under federal indictment on stolen money order charges in Las Vegas, Nev.

Monday night at 9 p.m. Westrich walked out of the house where he and his wife and three children lived and drove off in his 1967 Thunderbird without saying where he was going.

This was the last time his family saw him alive.

Tuesday morning the car was found abandoned in the driveway at the home of a retired businessman in suburban Independence. Westrich's body was between the bucket seats, his feet in the rear and his head in front. He had been shot in the back and in the back of the head.

Westrich was indicted Oct. 17 along with William M. and Mildred Rooney of Cleveland in Las Vegas on charges of transporting stolen money orders, and all three were free on bond.

Westrich and Rooney also were arrested Aug. 5 at Akron, where police said they were caught at 4:20 a.m. inside the Bancroft Jewelry Store in the BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A group of housewives, charging that the food industry had not been cooperative in holding down food costs, promised today to resume their fight to get them lowered.

Mrs. Armand P. Herraras of nearby Williamsville, chairman of the New York State Housewives for Lower Prices, said members of the Buffalo chapter would picket a food store Friday in a Buffalo suburb.

Probation Officer Pleads Innocent

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Jordan Dean, a 37-year-old Columbus probation officer, pleaded innocent Tuesday in municipal court to a charge of using a stolen credit card on a $1,000 spending spree.

Authorities said judges who appointed Mrs. Dean in 1966 were not aware that she had previously served reformatory terms for housebreaking and grand larceny.

Mayflower Hotel. Three men were caught in the store, allegedly with $7,000 loot in their pockets, and they were working on the safe when spotted, police said.

The third man arrested there was Salvatore R. Carcione, 31, Northfield.

Westrich was out on $1,000 bond on the Akron burglary charge.

Police said the shooting apparently occurred elsewhere and the car then was driven to the place where it was found. Independence is five miles northwest of Macedonia.

Westrich formerly owned a race horse but sold it after he was suspended at Thistledown Race Track in September. Track stewards said he had falsified his owner's license by not including his criminal record.

The horse is running today at the Cranwood meet at Thistledown track. It's name: Killer's Kin.

POPE'S GIFTS TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION—On display in the lobby of the visitors' entrance to the United Nations, a papal cross and ring presented to the U.N. by Pope Paul VI during his 1965 visit have been ordered sold at auction by Secretary General U Thant. U.S. Officials Concerned By Dangers of Marijuana

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top federal officials are widely divided in their views on marijuana. But they're concerned and trying to learn more about it.

The division was underscored following the statement last week by Food and Drug Commissioner Mr. James L. Goddard that he believes marijuana is less dangerous than alcohol.

Goddard recommended relaxing severe laws against marijuana to eliminate penalties against possession. He said penalties should be retained for distribution or sale.

Taking a sharply different position, U.S. Narcotics Commissioner Henry L. Giordano testified before Congress earlier this year that marijuana "is not, as some people say, less (dangerous) than alcohol or less than smoking tobacco. Some way we have got to get this across to the public."

But federal officials agree the growing use of marijuana is of serious concern.

To fill the gap in scientific data on the drug, the government has put high priority on new research by the National Institute of Mental Health.

Missing Ticket Mystery Solved

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Deltha Moore, a 20-year-old church secretary, says she finally located a missing Irish Sweepstakes ticket worth $50,000.

Someone else has got it.

It seems that although her name was on the stub, the ticket bore a different address. And a man who lived at that address admitted using her name to buy the ticket.

Mrs. Moore said the man used her name to protect his government pension and social security but promised to pay her for her trouble.

"Last night he offered $500," Mrs. Moore said Tuesday.

"That made me mad. It's not fair to put me on the spot and go through all this trouble for $500," she said.

Studies of Narcotic and Drug Abuse hopes to have solid evidence in about two years.

The Federal Narcotics Act provides for a mandatory prison term of 2 to 10 years for first offenses on possession of marijuana, though discretionary sentences are allowed for offenders up to age 26.

In Colorado, the death penalty is provided for second convictions involving persons under 25 with narcotics—including marijuana.

What are the dangers of marijuana?

Federal officials agreed in a series of interviews that it's easier to say what the dangers are not.

React Names New Officers

Pickaway County React Team elected officers Tuesday for the coming year.

James A. Francis was named president. Other officers are Richard Lamb, vice president; Terry R. Sloan, secretary; Daniel R. Davis, treasurer; John Sanders, captain, unit A; Larry Lane, captain, unit B; Charles McGraw, captain, unit C.

The group is composed of citizens band radio operators, all of whom are licensed with the federal communications commission. The purpose of this unit is to provide emergency aid to the traveling public thru use of radio.

React is a nationally chartered organization with teams throughout the United States.

The Pickaway County team meets the first and third Tuesday of each month at the city building. Licensed CB operators are welcome to submit an application for membership.

Judge Keeps Dayton Law Off Ballot

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Montgomery County Common Pleas Judge Cecil Edwards Tuesday granted a temporary restraining order to keep Dayton's fair housing ordinance off the Nov. 7 ballot.

The action was sought by a group of Dayton residents who wanted a city charter amendment declared unconstitutional because it submitted the ordinance, which they said was an issue of civil rights, to a public vote.

After a 15-minute hearing, Edwards issued the order and also ordered that no attempts be made to enforce the ordinance until the merits of a permanent restraining order were decided.

He explained that the ordinance requires that no enforcement can take place until it is submitted to a vote of the people.

Mental Health Act Criticized

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's new Community Mental Health Services Act goes into effect Thursday, and already it has become the target of criticism.

The program was the target of an attack here Tuesday at sessions of the Ohio Welfare Conference and the Ohio Mental Health Association, which wraps up four days of meetings today.

Most vocal critic of the act was Raymond E. Hildebrand, president of the Lucas County Mental Health League.

He said the law is a major step toward providing improved services, but he criticized the legislature for failing to provide the necessary funds.

Reds Gain Edge in Viet Air War

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Improved training and combat experience are credited with enabling North Vietnamese fighter pilots to duel American jet pilots on better than even terms in recent dogfights.

The Pentagon disclosed Tuesday that North Vietnamese MIGs outkilled American jets six planes to two during a period running from late August to mid-October.

This reversed the better than three-to-one ratio in aerial kills scored by U.S. pilots over North Vietnamese fliers throughout much of the air war which began in February 1965.

This turnaround, plus a significant rise in the aggressiveness of North Vietnamese air force combat sorties, led U.S. officials to order American Air Force, Navy and Marine jets to attack the important Phuc Yen airfield 18 miles northwest of Hanoi.

American fliers returning from the war zone have been telling newsmen of the growing professionalism of the North Vietnamese air force.

Air Force Col. Robin Olds, the leading MIG killer of the Vietnam war, told a news conference Oct. 3 "there was a notable increase in their aggressiveness and their capability" over the year of his tour.

"Either they've done an awful lot of training or they've run in a new ball team," Olds said.

The consensus among military professionals here seems to be that training and battle experience, plus more professional use of their weapons, explain the greater effectiveness of North Vietnam's pilots.

Olds told a reporter the North Vietnamese had begun to use the MIG21 as it should be used—at supersonic speeds and with tactics to match.

Other officers said the MIGs are utilizing their speed to dash into favorable firing position, to unleash their air-to-air missiles and then to get away.

The MIG21 as an interceptor is rated on a par with the U.S. F4 Phantom fighter.

The Pentagon said that between July 1 and mid-October, U.S. planes shot down seven MIGs and six U.S. aircraft were lost in air-to-air combat.

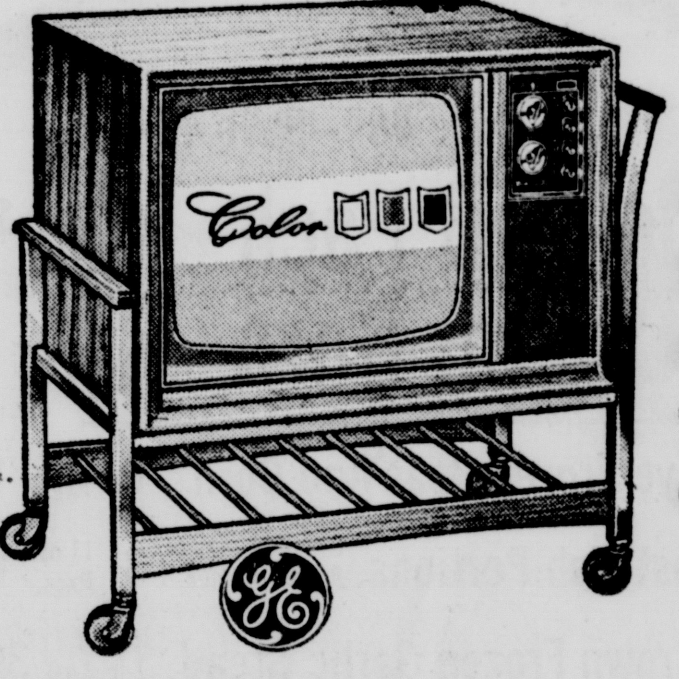

In the latter half of that period the edge swung against the Americans.

REGROUPING—Defying a court order, an estimated 3,500 students gather at Sproul Hall Plaza at the University of California in Berkeley after their mass demonstration against the draft and the Vietnam war was broken up at the Oakland Induction Center by club-swinging, gas-firing police and state troopers.

What are the dangers of marijuana?

Federal officials agreed in a series of interviews that it's easier to say what the dangers are not.

The President's Crime Commission said earlier this year marijuana isn't habit forming physically, although users may become psychologically dependent on it; the user doesn't feel the need with time to increase the dosage as do opiate users; there is no conclusive evidence marijuana users graduate to more powerful drugs or that it causes crime; there are no obvious lasting physical effects and have been no known deaths.

But the commission found it to be by no means harmless, saying "it can cause anxiety, confusion or disorientation... (and) induce temporary psychotic episodes in predisposed people."

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Answer Here

DEAR ABBY: Last week a neighbor came to our door with a disturbing story. It seems our son, age 10, had undressed her son, age 6, and whatever else took place, she was supposed to have seen.

We have never had any trouble like this before. Our son's exact words were, "I don't know what I did wrong."

This neighbor didn't know that there was a third boy there, who was older. When I questioned him, he assured me that nothing serious took place.

We appreciated this neighbor telling us, so that if we do have a problem we can correct it in time, but what we didn't appreciate was her telling the whole neighborhood.

The next day, none of our son's friends would play with him.

Three days later, the POLICE called to question us in reference to this incident. (Such tales can really get out of proportion, can't they?)

What should we do if they continue to press the issue?

WORRIED DAD
DEAR DAD: If by "pressing the issue," you mean they continue to persecute your child by refusing to allow their children to play with him, moving from the neighborhood would not be too drastic, if it's at all possible. Tales of this nature live a lot longer than they should.

If you are convinced that what took place was nothing "serious," and only a normal incident of exploring, due to natural boyish curiosity, forget it. But better schedule a chat between your boy and a competent child psychologist to be sure the child hasn't an (unhealthy or abnormal) pre-occupation with sex.

DEAR ABBY: I am an 18-year-old boy with a problem. First let me explain that I AM clean, I LOOK clean, and have never been in any kind of trouble, but I guess you wouldn't say that I was "in" with the popular crowd. I have liked this 16-year-old girl for a long time, and finally got up the nerve to ask her for a movie date. She accepted and I thought we had a good time, but the next time I asked her for a date she said she was busy.

I asked her again, and then she told me that her father didn't want her to go out with me. I asked her why, and she said her father doesn't give reasons, he just gives orders. This bothered me a lot because I only saw her father once to shake hands with on the night I took her out. I finally got up the nerve to call her father and ask him why he didn't like me.

He said he liked me fine, and when I told him what his daughter had told me, he said he never said anything of the kind.

Could the father be lying? Or could the girl have lied to me? I need your advice.

LIED TO
DEAR LIED: Obviously, SOMEBODY lied. Either way my advice to you is to forget the girl.

DEAR ABBY: A relative of mine invited me to a buffet-style supper for out-of-town company. While I was eating, without any warning whatsoever, the hostess stuck her fork into my macaroni salad. Abby, all I said was, "Please, if you want some, get some of your own."

She looked at me as tho I was in the wrong and in a very snotty tone she said, "Well, pardon ME!" Then she turned her back on me.

Then I said to her, "O, that's all right, as long as you already started it, you may as well finish it because I'm not going to eat it now." She didn't say

Rhodes To Tell 'Ohio Story'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes will tell his "Ohio story" to about 1,500 of the nation's top business executives at the annual awards banquet of Financial World Magazine in New York City Wednesday night.

As principal speaker at the banquet, the governor said he would tell of Ohio's successful drive for new and expanded industry and what he said were the thousands of new jobs this has produced in the last year.

People of Hajiabad Set For Coronation of Shah

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—In the hamlet of Hajiabad, a home-built coronation arch symbolizes the spirit of Iran on the eve of the coronation of the shah.

The arch may not be much to look at—wooden poles and pieces of flimsy fabric—but the effort and feeling which went into it typify the emotions aroused by the coronation throughout the nation.

The people of Hajiabad, on the foothills of Mt. Alvand Kuh in western Iran, had no rolls of plush velvet with which to cover their arch. The women of the village donated their best clothes to wrap the wooden poles. They have no electricity to power bright fairy lights such as will sparkle in Tehran and other cities—but they reported to the chief of their coronation committee: "We will light it with the light of our hearts." Mohammed Reza Pahlevi, Shah of Iran, King of Kings, Light of the Aryans, will formally assume his place on Thursday—his 48th birthday—as the modern successor to the crowns of Cyrus and Darius of the ancient land of Persia.

He will crown himself and his empress, Farah, 28, mother of the 6-year-old crown prince, Reza. It will be purely a symbolic act, for he has had the job more than a quarter of a century. He delayed the coronation in order to press his campaign for a modern Iran, and until he had an heir.

He succeeded to the throne at 22, after the British and the Russians forced his father to abdicate 26 years ago because of pro-German leanings. After a shaky beginning, he eventually began to take hold and wealth has begun to trickle down to his 25 million subjects in a development program spearheaded by land redistribution which he began in 1950 by liquidating his own vast royal estates.

He bucked a hard-line feudal society by developing education, women's rights and undreamed-of benefits for peasants. And now he has solid support, even from much of the old guard.

The Hajiabad arch is one of more than 52,000 coronation arches throughout the country.

On coronation day and during the seven days and nights of festivities that follow there will be 97,000 parties, 630 carnivals, 120 garden parties and countless speeches and prayer meetings, exhibitions and parades, fireworks displays and concerts.

DEMONSTRATE, CLEAN UP—The largest anti-war demonstration (left, thousands marching to the Pentagon) in the history of the nation's capital was ended by the arrest of the last 240 of some 35,000 protesters, and workmen started cleaning up Lincoln Memorial.

we care

what's in a name?

Our full name is "The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company."

But, to most, we're "A&P" for short.

And some friends like to call us "The Tea Company."

Why? Well, in 1859, when A&P began, our first product was tea.

We bought full shiploads from the Orient and sold it at great savings to the public.

You learn a lot about tea in more than 100 years.

Today, you can savor the results of all that experience by tasting one of A&P's fine tea products:

Our Own Tea Bags, for example.

Each bag contains up to 15 of the world's finest teas, from as many as 5 different countries.

It can take that many to develop our distinct blend.

So now you know why, by some, we're called "The Tea Company."

If you'd like to know why we're called "Great," shop A&P this week.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Answer Here

DEAR ABBY: Last week a neighbor came to our door with a disturbing story. It seems our son, age 10, had undressed her son, age 6, and whatever else took place, she was supposed to have seen.

We have never had any trouble like this before. Our son's exact words were, "I don't know what I did wrong."

This neighbor didn't know that there was a third boy there, who was older. When I questioned him, he assured me that nothing serious took place.

We appreciated this neighbor telling us, so that if we do have a problem we can correct it in time, but what we didn't appreciate was her telling the whole neighborhood.

The next day, none of our son's friends would play with him.

Three days later, the POLICE called to question us in reference to this incident. (Such tales can really get out of proportion, can't they?)

What should we do if they continue to press the issue?

DEAR DAD: If by "pressing the issue," you mean they continue to persecute your child by refusing to allow their children to play with him, moving from the neighborhood would not be too drastic, if it's at all possible. Tales of this nature live a lot longer than they should.

If you are convinced that what took place was nothing "serious," and only a normal incident of exploring, due to natural boyish curiosity, forget it. But better schedule a chat between your boy and a competent child psychologist to be sure the child hasn't an (unhealthy or abnormal) pre-occupation with sex.

DEAR ABBY: I am an 18-year-old boy with a problem. First let me explain that I AM clean, I LOOK clean, and have never been in any kind of trouble, but I guess you wouldn't say that I was "in" with the popular crowd. I have liked this 16-year-old girl for a long time, and finally got up the nerve to ask her for a movie date. She accepted and I thought we had a good time, but the next time I asked her for a date she said she was busy.

I asked her again, and then she told me that her father didn't want her to go out with me. I asked her why, and she said her father doesn't give reasons, he just gives orders. This bothered me a lot because I only saw her father once to shake hands with on the night I took her out. I finally got up the nerve to call her father and ask him why he didn't like me.

He said he liked me fine, and when I told him what his daughter had told me, he said he never said anything of the kind.

Could the father be lying? Or could the girl have lied to me? I need your advice.

DEAR LIEB: Obviously, SOMEBODY lied. Either way my advice to you is to forget the girl.

DEAR ABBY: A relative of mine invited me to a buffet-style supper for out-of-town company. While I was eating, without any warning whatsoever, the hostess stuck her fork into my macaroni salad. Abby, all I said was, "Please, if you want some, get some of your own."

She looked at me as tho I was in the wrong and in a very snotty tone she said, "Well, pardon ME!" Then she turned her back on me.

Then I said to her, "O, that's all right, as long as you already started it, you may as well finish it because I'm not going to eat it now." She didn't say

People of Hajiabad Set For Coronation of Shah

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—In the hamlet of Hajiabad, a home-built coronation arch symbolizes the spirit of Iran on the eve of the coronation of the shah.

The arch may not be much to look at—wooden poles and pieces of flimsy fabric—but the effort and feeling which went into it typify the emotions aroused by the coronation throughout the nation.

The people of Hajiabad, on the foothills of Mt. Alvand Kuh in western Iran, had no rolls of plush velvet with which to cover their arch. The women of the village donated their best clothes to wrap the wooden poles. They have no electricity to power bright fairy lights such as will sparkle in Tehran and other cities—but they reported to the chief of their coronation committee: "We will light it with the light of our hearts." Mohammed Reza Pahlevi, Shah of Iran, King of Kings, Light of the Aryans, will formally assume his place on Thursday—his 48th birthday—as the modern successor to the crowns of Cyrus and Darius of the ancient land of Persia.

THOUGHTFUL VIGIL — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara stares out of a window of the Pentagon in Washington as thousands of anti-war protesters demonstrate outside.

Set Report On Cincy Race Riots

CINCINNATI (AP) — After recently completing a three-month study on the causes of Cincinnati's summer racial outbreaks, a former city official concluded that jobs are needed for Negroes.

"Black people in Cincinnati want more jobs," David D. McPheeters Jr. said in revealing an 11-point program that was part of a report he was requested to make by the Cincinnati Human Relations Commission.

McPheeters, former executive director of the commission, suggested in the report that city school teachers undergo psychological screening every two years to re-evaluate their social attitudes. He further proposed they be required to study Negro history at the University of Cincinnati.

Another proposal was for expanded health service to free the community of rats and help improve sanitation programs.

McPheeters also called for the decentralization of city administration and establishment of some degree of a self-governing system on a neighborhood basis.

Cincy Workers Vote on Pact

CINCINNATI (AP) — Around 5,400 employees of two local Ford Motor Co. plants will decide today whether to accept the United Auto Workers' new three-year contract with Ford.

But officials said even if men at the plants in suburban Sharonville and Fairfax ratify the contract, work might not be resumed there until next week.

They said local issues including overtime, promotion, layoff and transfer policies face the two plants and will have to be solved before the men return to work.

Set Report On Cincy Race Riots

CINCINNATI (AP) — After recently completing a three-month study on the causes of Cincinnati's summer racial outbreaks, a former city official concluded that jobs are needed for Negroes.

"Black people in Cincinnati want more jobs," David D. McPheeters Jr. said in revealing an 11-point program that was part of a report he was requested to make by the Cincinnati Human Relations Commission.

McPheeters, former executive director of the commission, suggested in the report that city school teachers undergo psychological screening every two years to re-evaluate their social attitudes. He further proposed they be required to study Negro history at the University of Cincinnati.

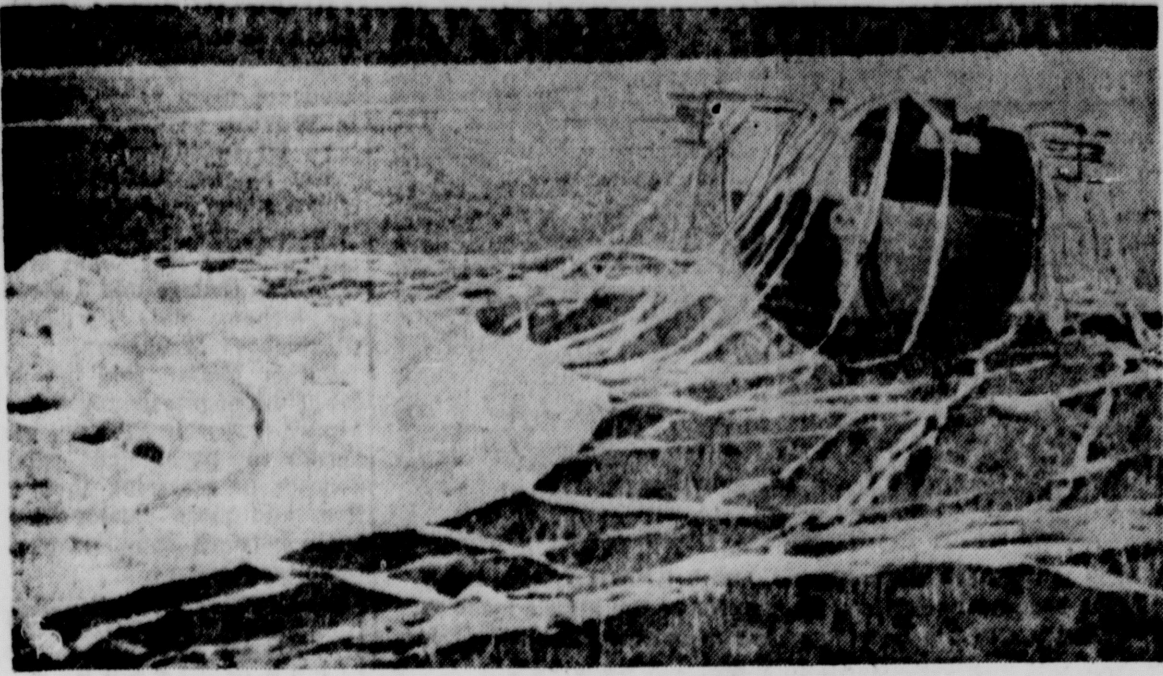

Another proposal was for expanded health service to free the community of rats and help improve sanitation programs.

McPheeters also called for the decentralization of city administration and establishment of some degree of a self-governing system on a neighborhood basis.

Cincy Workers Vote on Pact

CINCINNATI (AP) — Around 5,400 employees of two local Ford Motor Co. plants will decide today whether to accept the United Auto Workers' new three-year contract with Ford. But officials said even if men at the plants in suburban Sharonville and Fairfax ratify the contract, work might not be resumed there until next week.

They said local issues including overtime, promotion, layoff and transfer policies face the two plants and will have to be solved before the men return to work.

New Washington 'Camp-in' Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King urges a massive civil rights "camp-in" in Washington aimed at forcing Congress into adopting a crash antipoverty program.

King, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and a longtime advocate of nonviolent protest, said Monday: "We have to find a middle road between riots and timid supplication."

"We need an escalation of nonviolence to civil disorder in order to channelize the legitimate rage of the community."

hair blowing in the breeze, squinted down the barrel of a .38-caliber revolver and squeezed the trigger five times. Five bullets ripped through the middle of a human silhouette target seven yards away. All the holes were grouped within a 10-inch circle.

"That's good shooting, Mr. Karner," the policeman said. "Any one of those shots would have disabled the man."

Alvin Karner is 64. He sells uniforms for a living.

The Kansas City Police Department, undermanned and short of funds, is training businessmen—and women—to defend themselves and their property.

Four businessmen have been killed in robberies this year, and the city has been averaging nearly six holdups a day.

The Board of Police Commissioners ordered the department to set up the training course for merchants. It includes four hours of classroom work, and four hours on the firing range.

Italy Rejects

A-Ban Concept

GENEVA (AP) — Italy rejected the concept of a permanent treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons today.

The joint draft presented by the United States and the Soviet Union says such a treaty should be "of unlimited duration."

Chief Italian delegate Roberto Caracciolo proposed to the 17-nation disarmament conference that the treaty should be valid for only a certain number of years.

At the end of this period any participating nation could drop out with six months notice.

Sgt. John Darr, a veteran of 13 years on the force and an expert marksman despite the loss of one eye from a rifle explosion, heads the training.

Twenty-two men and three women reported to the Police Academy for the first lesson. They carried their own guns, ranging from small automatics to massive, cowboy-style revolvers.

Policemen took the pistols to another room for test firing during the first lecture. The bullets will be kept at headquarters for ballistics checks in event of a shooting investigation.

Darr outlined Missouri's gun laws and cited court cases to demonstrate when a citizen is justified in shooting and when he isn't.

"It's easy enough to stand up here and talk about shooting someone," he said. "But when the time comes, you're the one who has to make the decision." Still, said Darr in response to a student's question, "I'd rather be tried for his murder than him be tried for mine."

Not everyone is enthralled about the program. Irving Achtenberg, chairman of the American Civil Liberties Union in Kansas City, said his organization is considering whether to take a stand on the program.

"Personally," he said, "I'm afraid of everybody having guns. It's dangerous."

Darr has no such qualms. "If you know the guy behind the counter may have a gun and know how to use it," he said, "you're going to think twice before you try a robbery."

JOHN STEINBECK IV, 21, son of the novelist, leaves night court in Washington en route to a U.S. Army stockade after being arrested on charges of "maintaining a common nuisance" where narcotics are illegally sold or used. Police raiding his Washington apartment found 20 pounds of marijuana in two suitcases. He is a GI.

Deny Bryan Man Worked For Firm

ANGOLA, Ind. (AP)—A truck driver from Ohio arrested in the wounding of a New York truck driver on the Indiana Toll Road Oct. 15 was not then employed by B. A. Miller, Liberty Center, Ohio, as reported earlier, Miller said Tuesday.

Indiana state police listed the arrested man, Vernon R. Babb, 27, Bryan, Ohio, as a driver for Miller. Miller said Babb had been a contract driver for him but not since Oct. 13.

Babb and Robert Michoff, 31, also of Bryan, were arrested and charged with violating the 1935 Indiana Firearms Act and carrying concealed weapons after J. Wilbur Flick, 44, Rt. 2, Moravia, N.Y., suffered a bullet wound in the foot.

Babb and Michoff were apprehended by a state police trooper shortly after Flick's flatbed truck was fired upon from a toll road overpass.

A pistol, ammunition, a gallon jug of gasoline, two cement blocks and a rock and brick were found in the car Babb and Michoff were driving.

Urgs Psychiatric Exams of Priests

HINGHAM, Mass. (AP) — A Jesuit psychologist has urged Roman Catholic bishops and heads of male religious orders to provide psychiatric evaluations for priesthood candidates.

The biggest problem in running a seminary is the "number of people who come in for false reasons," the Rev. John McCall of Boston College told a meeting for bishops and superiors at Glastonbury Monastery.

Father McCall said the mental health of priests could be improved by group therapy, ready access to psychiatric advice, honesty in assessing their motive, and more candor in dialogue between seminarians and their teachers.

Browns Meet N.Y. Giants

See Tarkenton Man To Watch

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ever try to nail syrup to the wall? That's about what the job of containing New York Giants' quarterback Fran Tarkenton is like.

"He starts to the right around end, stops and retreats, and the man coming for him loses the angle," Cleveland Browns' Coach Blanton Collier said Tuesday.

"It's his second move that destroys you. He has the knack of making a man commit himself. He seems to do it by instinct."

Collier is concerned about Tarkenton's backfield wandering because the Browns play the Giants in New York Sunday.

"A lot of people talk about containing Tarkenton," Collier added. "It's hard to do. He is master at moving receivers, getting them to react to him." The Browns and St. Louis Cardinals are tied (4-2) for first place in the National Football League's Century Division and Cleveland can take over the top spot with a victory—at least for one day. The Cardinals face Green Bay next Monday night.

Moore Is MAC Back of Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Al Moore of Miami, who raced 73 yards for the winning touchdown against Ohio University last Saturday, is the Mid-American Conference Back of the Week.

Linemen of the Week honors go to Paul Elzey, a linebacker from Toledo who was outstanding in a 35-9 romp over Western Michigan.

Other linemen nominated were Paul Jordan, Kent State; Dennis Parker, Marshall; Dave Tsaloff, Miami, and Bob Beach, Ohio.

Other backs mentioned were Garland Wilson, Kent; Claude Smith, Marshall, and Roland Moss, Toledo.

Goegan Inks Pact

MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (AP) — Defenseman Pete Goegan ended a 19-day holdout and signed a contract Tuesday with the National Hockey League Minnesota North Stars.

the season for the county schools, all three play a nine game schedule.

Logan Elm faces a team with a 27 gam winning streak, one of the longest in the state.

UNIOTO has been playing varsity football for only four years. Under Jim VanDeGriff, the Shermans quickly became a grid power, winning the Scioto Valley Conference title for the past two years.

VanDeGriff left the Ross County School this year, and Jim Long, an assistant at Chillicothe last year, has continued the winning tradition established at Unioto.

Unioto has defeated Adena, 26-8; Piketon, 72-6; Westfall, 30-22; Dayton Bellbrook, 26-6; East Clinton, 22-8; and Paint Valley twice, 40-12 and 38-6.

The common opponents played by the two teams are Piketon and Westfall. The Braves beat Piketon, 14-8, scoring in the final two minutes of last Friday's game for the win, and battled Westfall to a scoreless deadlock.

If it is the final league game for the Shermans, who have scored 140 points while holding SVC opposition to 32. Playing only two games in the SVC, the Braves did all of their league scoring last week. Logan Elm is 1-0-1 in the league, and is mathematically within reach of the conference crown.

Westfall, with a 1-1-1 record in the SVC, is out of the race for the title, although Paint Valley has a slim chance to gain a share of the crown.

THE Bearcats would need to win Friday against the Mustangs, against Logan Elm in the final game of the season and hope the Braves upset the Shermans.

Common opponents played by Paint Valley and Westfall include Piketon, Unioto and East Clinton. The Bearcats edged East Clinton, 14-12. Westfall lost to the new Clinton County consolidation, 26-14.

Paint Valley rolled past Piketon, 25-6. Westfall defeated Piketon, 28-6. Both teams lost to Unioto. The Bearcats have won three games this season while losing four.

Westfall has won one game, lost four and tied two.

Reynoldsburg has a 5-2 record for the season. Both of the losses suffered by the Radiers have been, to Metro League Schools.

Whitehall turned the trick, blanking the Raiders, 18-0, and Pleasant View edged them, 14-6. In other league games, Reynoldsburg had defeated Hamilton, 22-0 and Franklin Heights, 26-8.

Teays Valley has lost to Hamilton, 12-8, to Pleasant View, 27-0, to Franklin Heights, 24-7, and to Whitehall, 68-0.

One of three co-champions of the league last year, Reynoldsburg has 10 veterans on the team. A young team, the Raiders have only seven seniors on the squad.

Hawks Beat N.Y. For 7th in Row

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's nothing that goes quite so well with a cold beer as a hot streak. But sometimes both are difficult to come by.

It took St. Louis Coach Richie Guerin several minutes to get the beer because he couldn't find an opener in the Hawks' crowded dressing room at New York's Madison Square Garden.

It took his Hawks considerably longer to keep their streak hot, but they did—winning their seventh National Basketball Association game in as many starts by outlasting the New York Knickerbockers 135-130 in overtime Tuesday night.

In other NBA action, Philadelphia drubbed Detroit 124-102 in a game preceding the Hawks-Knicks contest. San Francisco topped Cincinnati 116-106 and Baltimore whipped Seattle 136-125.

Kentucky edged Anaheim 128-

127 and Minnesota trounced Pittsburgh 104-86 in the American Basketball Association.

The Hawks trailed 117-110 with three minutes remaining in regulation time. But then the Hawks took advantage of some sloppy New York play and charged to a 119-119 deadlock, the tying points coming on Paul Silas' field goal with 39 seconds left.

The Hawks thought they had won it 121-119 on Gene Tormohlen's final shot, but the officials ruled that he didn't get the shot off before the 24-second time limit had expired.

Hal Greer scored 38 points and Billy Cunningham 25 in leading the Philadelphia rout. Wilt Chamberlain scored only 11 for the 76ers, being content to lead both teams with 27 rebounds and his club with five assists. John Trevant led Detroit with 19 points.

Unitas Tops NFL Passing Records

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts has taken over as top passer in the National Football League's weekly statistics but he would trade it all for victories instead of ties in the last two games.

Unitas has been breaking records each week. The latest was the mark for career completions, previously held by Y.A. Tittle. The 20 completions in Sunday's 20-20 tie with Minnesota gave him 2,131 for his lifetime total, compared to Tittle's 2,117.

The involved standings give Unitas the lead on a combination of a 60.1 completion percentage, 10 touchdowns, 2.9 interception percentage and 8.14 yards average gain.

Norm Sneed of Philadelphia, last week's leaders, dropped to third and Sonny Jurgensen of Washington moved into the No. 2 spot.

Leroy Kelly of Cleveland, 1,000-plus yard season, has 516 yards for six games, counting the 111 on 18 carries Sunday against Chicago. Johnny Roland of St. Louis is second with 459 yards, picking up 71 yards on 17 attempts against Philadelphia.

Jim Bakken, St. Louis' place kicker, continues to pull away in the scoring department with 70 points on 17 field goals and 19 extra points. His closest competitor is Homer Jones, New York's split end who has scored nine touchdowns or 54 points.

Jones is ninth among the pass receivers, but his 28.4 yard average and eight touchdowns are tops. Charley Taylor of Washington has caught the most passes, 35.

Pat Studsill of Detroit still leads the punters with a 45.4 yard average.

Donny Anderson of Green Bay has the best punt return average, 13.7, and John Love of Washington has the best kickoff return average, 39.0 yards.

Marv Woodson of Pittsburgh still has the most interceptions, five.

N.Y. Season Opens

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The big game hunting season opens in New York's northern woodlands today and the State Conservation Department reported hunters had a good chance of bagging deer. The department said wind and rain had stripped trees of leaves making for good visibility.

Major Threat
To Ohion

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, a two-time winner and the defending champion, led golf's top-ranking professionals into the first round of the $100,000 Sahara Invitational Tournament today, a 72-hole event that will mean $20,000 to the winner next Saturday.

Arnold Palmer, who has won almost everything in the world except the rich Sahara, could pass the magic $200,000 money winning mark in a year with a victory here. To date, the millionaire pro has collected $182,393 in official earnings.

Nicklaus is no far behind. He's won $168,998.

Others in the $100,000 bracket who are here for more lot are Julius Boros, Bill Casper, Dan Sikes, Doug Sanders and Frank Beard.

Play is over the Paradise Valley Country Club, 7,069 yards of greenery, splashed in this desert country. It has a par of 36-35-71, where a year ago Nicklaus put together rounds of 71-77-68-66-282. He had also won the event in 1963.

Most of the pros revisited the course in the pro-amateur Monday and Tuesday. But Nicklaus and Palmer skipped the prelude, taking brief vacations following the United States' triumph in the Ryder Cup matches at Houston, Tex., over Great Britain last week.

In pro-am competition Don Massengale scored a hole-in-one — an No. 8 iron shot on the 140-yard 12th hole at the Las Vegas Municipal Course which shared the pro-am action with the Paradise Club.

Four teams tied for the pro-am honors after 36 holes Tuesday. The teams were led by Ted Malakalen, Ray Floyd, Paul Allen and Lee Trevino.

The individual low scorers, collecting $695 each, were Gardner Dickinson and George Arch-

Grid Forecaster Losing Ground, But Likes O.J.

NEW YORK (AP) — Like the cost of living, a football forecaster's average sometimes goes out of sight. But there's a difference because the forecaster's figures always get smaller and smaller. Last week's average was .704.

The year's average is .713. Here are this week's picks: Southern California over Oregon. By sundown Saturday, Orange Juice Simpson will taste like bitter lemon to the Webfoots of Oregon.

Colorado over Oklahoma State: The Cowpokes are strong on defense but they never have encountered anyone who can puncture a line with the speed and efficiency of Wilmer Cooks, the 215-pound Buffalo fullback.

Tennessee over Louisiana State: If the Volunteers could beat Alabama last week with a third string quarterback, what will they do to LSU now that everyone is healthy?

North Carolina State over Duke: Dennis Byrd, a 250-pound tackle is in charge of the Wolf-pack's defense. The friendliness of the home field also will help NC State remain unbeaten.

Notre Dame over Michigan State: A year ago this was the all-everything game but this time around there is a lot less glamor although the bumps and bruises will be as numerous as ever. You can watch from your own arm-chair.

Georgia over Kentucky: This season, Kentucky has lost five straight while yielding 140 points. Georgia has won four of five while punching over 151 points.

Purdue over Iowa: Mike Phipps, Purdue's sophomore quarterback, is the nation's all-offense leader.

Wyoming over Arizona State: The game is being played in the Sun Devils' stadium but that won't help them any.

er. Both had 36-hole scores of 135.

Houston over Mississippi: The margin of victory could be as thin as a point after touchdown. Indiana over Arizona: The Hoosiers travel a great distance for their sixth triumph of the season but the journey home will be a happy one.

Syracuse over Penn State: Neither team has a pass attack and you can't run against that Syracuse line.

Alabama over Clemson: The Crimson Tide gets revenge for its upset defeat of last week.

Harvard over Dartmouth: The passing of Ric Zimmerman will decide.

Injured Knee

Benches Gilliam

KANSAS CITY (AP)—An injured knee, restored by surgery last year then re-injured this fall, has benched center Jon Gilliam of the Kansas City Chiefs for the remainder of the 1967 American Football League season.

Gilliam, a seven-year pro, played in only the last game in 1966, but returned this season and played in five exhibitions and the first five regular games.

Pick Astro Coaches

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Astros of the National League Tuesday named Mel McGaha, Salty Parker, Buddy Hancken and Jim Owens as coaches for the 1968 season.

Browns Meet N.Y. Giants

See Tarkenton Man To Watch

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ever try to nail syrup to the wall? That's about what the job of containing New York Giants' quarterback Fran Tarkenton is like.

"He starts to the right around end, stops and retreats, and the man coming for him loses the angle," Cleveland Browns' Coach Blanton Collier said Tuesday.

"It's his second move that destroys you. He has the knack of making a man commit himself. He seems to do it by instinct."

Collier is concerned about Tarkenton's backfield wandering because the Browns play the Giants in New York Sunday.

"A lot of people talk about containing Tarkenton," Collier added. "It's hard to do. He is master at moving receivers, getting them to react to him." The Browns and St. Louis Cardinals are tied (4-2) for first place in the National Football League's Century Division and Cleveland can take over the top spot with a victory—at least for one day. The Cardinals face Green Bay next Monday night.

Moore Is MAC Back of Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Al Moore of Miami, who raced 73 yards for the winning touchdown against Ohio University last Saturday, is the Mid-American Conference Back of the Week.

Lineman of the Week honors go to Paul Elzey, a linebacker from Toledo who was outstanding in a 35-9 romp over Western Michigan.

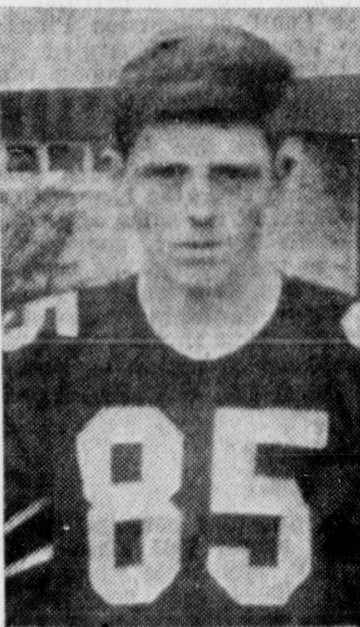

Other linemen nominated were Paul Jordan, Kent State; Dennis Parker, Marshall; Dave Tsaloff, Miami, and Bob Beach, Ohio.

Other backs mentioned were Garland Wilson, Kent; Claude Smith, Marshall, and Roland Moss, Toledo.

Goegan Inks Pact

MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (AP) — Defenseman Pete Goegan ended a 19-day holdout and signed a contract Tuesday with the National Hockey League Minnesota North Stars.

Hawks Beat N.Y. For 7th in Row

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer

There's nothing that goes quite so well with a cold beer as a hot streak. But sometimes both are difficult to come by.

It took St. Louis Coach Richie Guerin several minutes to get the beer because he couldn't find an opener in the Hawks' crowded dressing room at New York's Madison Square Garden.

It took his Hawks considerably longer to keep their streak hot, but they did—winning their seventh National Basketball Association game in as many starts by outlasting the New York Knickerbockers 135-130 in overtime Tuesday night.

In other NBA action, Philadelphia drubbed Detroit 124-102 in a game preceding the Hawks-Knicks contest, San Francisco topped Cincinnati 116-106 and Baltimore whipped Seattle 136-125.

Kentucky edged Anaheim 128-

127 and Minnesota trounced Pittsburgh 104-86 in the American Basketball Association.

The Hawks trailed 117-110 with three minutes remaining in regulation time. But then the Hawks took advantage of some sloppy New York play and charged to a 119-119 deadlock, the tying points coming on Paul Silas' field goal with 39 seconds left.

The Hawks thought they had won it 121-119 on Gene Tormohlen's final shot, but the officials ruled that he didn't get the shot off before the 24-second time limit had expired.

Hal Greer scored 38 points and Billy Cunningham 25 in leading the Philadelphia rout. Wilt Chamberlain scored only 11 for the 76ers, being content to lead both teams with 27 rebounds and his club with five assists, John Trevant led Detroit with 19 points.

Unitas Tops NFL Passing Records

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts has taken over as top passer in the National Football League's weekly statistics but he would trade it all for victories instead of ties in the last two games.

Unitas has been breaking records each week. The latest was the mark for career completions, previously held by Y.A. Tittle. The 20 completions in Sunday's 20-20 tie with Minnesota gave him 2,131 for his lifetime total, compared to Tittle's 2,117.

The involved standings give Unitas the lead on a combination of a 60.1 completion percentage, 10 touchdowns, 2.9 interception percentage and 8.14 yards average gain.

Norm Snead of Philadelphia, last week's leaders, dropped to third and Sonny Jurgensen of Washington moved into the No. 2 spot.

Leroy Kelly of Cleveland, 1,000-plus yard season, has 516 yards for six games, counting the 111 on 18 carries Sunday against Chicago. Johnny Roland of St. Louis is second with 459 yards, picking up 71 yards on 17 attempts against Philadelphia.

Jim Bakken, St. Louis' place kicker, continues to pull away in the scoring department with 70 points on 17 field goals and 19 extra points. His closest competitor is Homer Jones, New York's split end who has scored nine touchdowns or 54 points.

Jones is ninth among the pass receivers, but his 28.4 yard average and eight touchdowns are tops. Charley Taylor of Washington has caught the most passes, 35.

Pat Studsill of Detroit still leads the punters with a 45.4 yard average. Donny Anderson of Green Bay has the best punt return average, 13.7, and John Love of Washington has the best kickoff return average, 39.0 yards.

Marv Woodson of Pittsburgh still has the most interceptions, five.

N.Y. Season Opens

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The big game hunting season opens in New York's northern woodlands today and the State Conservation Department reported hunters had a good chance of bagging deer. The department said wind and rain had stripped trees of leaves making for good visibility.

NEW YORK (AP) — With music like "Stranger in Paradise," an Arabian Night romance for a plot and the rich oriental colors of a lavish production, ABC's "Kismet" Tuesday night could hardly miss. It was an ear-satisfying and eye-filling 90 minutes—particularly for television viewers who saw it in all its lovely hues.

The story served primarily as an excuse to introduce the assorted musical numbers. It was a tale of the beautiful daughter of a beggar who won the love of the caliph, and, on an earthier level, the beggar's romance with a lovely lady with a roving eye.

The plot and its ramifications did have a tendency to bog down occasionally, but there was soon a musical number and things picked up again.

Anna Maria Alberghetti, in the role of the young girl, acquitted herself well. She is very pretty and has a sweet true if small soprano voice. George Chakiris, as the handsome caliph, was a delight in the big dance production number.

In the Broadway play, the memorable role was that of the crafty beggar, Jose Ferrer in the television version seemed mature and downright portly when he should have been dashing. In fact he resembled King George V dressed for masquerade ball more than an arrogant poet of ancient Baghdad living by his wits. His singing voice, while adequate, was not particularly impressive.

Barbara Eden, who must be pretty familiar with this Arabian Nights business after two years of playing TV genie, contributed the more sly comedy moments as the faithless wife of the vizier and Hans Conried as her foolish husband played his part in almost slapstick fashion.

The real star of "Kismet" in any production is Alexander Borodin, who composed the lovely music which was given words and adapted to stage use.

Earlier in the evening NBC broadcast "A Hard Day's Night," the critically acclaimed film starring the Beatles and made three years ago at the peak of their popularity. It was pell-mell comedy, full of sight gags, one-line jokes, sudden changes of pace but often incomprehensible bits of dialogue in muffled Liverpool accents.

NBC filled its entire evening from 7:30 to 11 with movies—a situation which pessimists insist will be commonplace in television before too long. It followed "A Hard Day's Night" with an old Jerry Lewis comedy, "Cinderella," with Anna Maria Alberghetti as his leading woman. Thus Miss Alberghetti competed for audiences simultaneously on two rival networks.

Tonight ABC's entire evening schedule will be taken over by special broadcasts. First there will be a showing of "The King and I" with Deborah Kerr, Yul Brynner and Rodgers and Hammerstein score. Then comes a program built around Sophia Loren and shot mostly at her home near Rome.

High-Powered Deer Weapons

LUSK, Wyo. (AP) — Rancher Paul Percival recently bagged two deer—without firing a shot. Percival said he got his first deer with his pickup truck— at a cost of $700 damages to the vehicle. He phoned his wife to get the deer in their car. En route back to the ranch, Percival's car struck and killed another deer but the car escaped damage.

Community Action Group Approves Head Start Project

Pickaway County Community Action Committee, meeting in regular session in Common Pleas Courtroom, Tuesday evening, approved the Project Head Start program for the summer of 1968.

The necessity and problems of creating a day care center for underprivileged children, as is done through church organizations in other parts of the state, and the possibility of creating a Neighborhood Youth Corps were also discussed.

Head Start program, as described by Dr. David Goldschmidt, president, is a flexible non-structure classroom procedure.

It is designed, in Pickaway County, to introduce 150 children, 5 and 6 year olds, to a variety of activities and experiences normally denied children of the 2,194 poverty level families in the county.

A poverty level family is defined as a family of four (two adults and two children) living on an income of less than $3,000 a year.

Along with the children's activities there are special programs designed for the parents. These programs include health classes, courses in sewing and cooking, and nutrition.

A hopeful side effect of working with the parents is the education of middle class values concerning the importance of education and advancement.

"We have found that just working with the children is not completely successful; they return home to the same conditions they left. But when we involve the parents in the new activities and aspirations of the children we've really got something," said executive secretary Gloria Pike.

Medical, dental, psychological, and optometrical services and referrals of the children to other agencies will also be conducted in this project.

Estimated cost of the program, the only local one federally accepted to date, is $42,269.49.

Of this total cost approximately 20 per cent must be provided for by the community. Pickaway County meets this obligation through donation of classroom space by the schools, valued at $9,904, and $870 worth of free physical examinations.

Discussion was given to the need for a day care center for children from poverty line families where the mother must work. Since church groups have been involved in providing this service in other communities, it was suggested that members of the various local churches be consulted on this question.

A Neighborhood Youth Corps project to provide local youths with basic skills, work experience, the incentive to continue in school, and an allowance, was also discussed.

The executive committee has submitted a preliminary application for permission to conduct the program to the federal government. The project would include an estimated 40 to 50 people.

No projects have as yet been funded by the poverty agency due to lack of approval of the presidential budget by Congress. The local Community Action Committee does not anticipate receiving finances until early January.

Lausche Raps Viet Protests

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, said Tuesday night that demonstrations against U. S. policy in Vietnam are "unjustified" and are damaging "our country and its security."

He made the statement in an interview prior to addressing the 95th annual banquet of the Ohio State Grange.

Lausche said he had joined with Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., in presenting a resolution to the Senate urging that

False Names Draw Fines for Bucyrus Trio

Charged before Municipal Court Tuesday with registering under assumed names at the American Hotel Monday night were three Bucyrus residents.

Shirley Noggle, 27, Larry Wayne Amons, 21, Floyd Thompson, 36, pleaded guilty as charged before the bench of Judge Sterling Lamb.

Fines of $25 plus costs were assessed on each.

Howard Hamilton, 441 Watt St., was called before the court on charges of stealing one package of ground meat and one pack of lunch meat, valued together at $2.39, from a local grocery. Pleading guilty, he was sentenced to 30 days in jail, and a $100 fine plus costs. The sentence and $50 of the fine was suspended.

Ralph Jacobs, 1087 S. Washington St., pleaded guilty to unlawfully hunting on the lands of John E. Noecker. He was fined $10 plus costs.

Rosie B. Atwood, 50, Route 2, forfeited bond of $24 set on charges of speeding 65 miles in a 50 mile zone.

Robert D. Rosenbuck, 33, of 334 E. Main St., forfeited bond set at $19 on charges of speeding 70 miles in a 60 mile zone.

Loser Sues Post Office

CLEVELAND (AP) — Frank R. Franko, the loser in the Democratic mayoral primary at Youngstown last spring, charges in a suit filed in U.S. District Court here that the postal service failed to make proper delivery of campaign literature he mailed last April.

Franko, who lost to incumbent Anthony B. Flak, named as defendants Youngstown Postmaster Chester W. Bailey and the U.S. Postal Department. He asked $25,000 in compensatory damages and $25,000 in punitive damages in the suit filed Tuesday.

Moderate Living for 4 Costs $9,420

WASHINGTON (AP) — The more money you make the more it takes to live, says a government report showing a "moderate" standard of living costs a city family of four more than $9,000.

"Psychologically, the family feels as much pressure as before because it wants more," said Commissioner Arthur M.

Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The report shows a "moderate" living standard cost 39 per cent more than in 1959 when the last such study was made. Fifteen per cent of the increase was in prices. The other 24 per cent was in real improvements in the form of better food, more autos and other family needs and desires.

Ross emphasized the study does not represent a typical American family, but provides a yardstick to measure the spending habits of other families.

The median income of the nation's 48 million families is about $5,700 a year.

The study was based on a theoretical 38-year-old man with a steady job earning $11,000 a year, his wife who doesn't work, a 13-year-old son and an 8-year-old daughter.

It took them $9,191 in an average U.S. city for a "moderate" living standard last year, and with price increases since then the figure is at least $9,420 a year now.

They spent $7,329 on food, housing, clothing, transportation, medical and personal care and other items and the rest on taxes, life insurance, gifts and contributions to social and charitable organizations and job-related expenses of the husband.

"It is not a poverty budget nor is it a luxury budget," said Ross. The bureau will later publish living cost figures for families with both higher and lower incomes.

The same couple without children could have lived just as comfortably with $3,778 less income. If they had four children instead of two, they would have needed an additional $2,345 income to keep up the same level of living.

Community Action Group Approves Head Start Project

Pickaway County Community Action Committee, meeting in regular session in Common Pleas Courtroom, Tuesday evening, approved the Project Head Start program for the summer of 1968.

The necessity and problems of creating a day care center for underprivileged children, as is done through church organizations in other parts of the state, and the possibility of creating a Neighborhood Youth Corps were also discussed.

Head Start program, as described by Dr. David Goldschmidt, president, is a flexible non-structure classroom procedure.

It is designed, in Pickaway County, to introduce 150 children, 5 and 6 year olds, to a variety of activities and experiences normally denied children of the 2,194 poverty level families in the county.

A poverty level family is defined as a family of four (two adults and two children) living on an income of less than $3,000 a year.

Along with the children's activities there are special programs designed for the parents. These programs include health classes, courses in sewing and cooking, and nutrition.

A hopeful side effect of working with the parents is the encouragement of middle class values concerning the importance of education and advancement.

"We have found that just working with the children is not completely successful; they return home to the same conditions they left. But when we involve the parents in the new activities and aspirations of the children we've really got something," said executive secretary Gloria Pike.
